SPECIAL EDITION

For a city or section to grow with a maximum speed, it is as necessary to give due publicity to local resources, advantages and conditions, as it is for a merchant to advertise his goods in order to increase the volume of his sales.

The Evening Observer has long contemplated publication of an illustrated edition that will in pictures and story properly present the resources and advantages of La Grande and Grande Ronde valley territory.

The facts and figures that will be of interest to prospective investors and homeseekers are now being gathered and photographs will be secured that will convincingly back up the statements made in type.

The circulation abroad will place in the hands of thousands of desirable new citizens, all the necessary information in regard to this city and section. Such an edition is certain to be of the greatest community value, and it deserves the hearty support of everyone interested in local growth and development. Those receiving copies will have their attention centered on the possibilities open to them here, and the resultant acquisition of desirable new citizens will much more than justify the necessarily heavy expense of producing a creditable edition.

During the entire history of La Grande, no such complete and meritorious special issue of any paper has been attempted, and the Observer desires to emphasize the fact that its forthcoming edition will be in every way worthy of a hearty and unanimous community support.

The services of two experienced newspaper men, Messrs. Lyons and Hurd have been secured, and the Observer asks for them a courteous and considerate hearing on the part of those interviewed.

Let's all pull together for the progress and development of this favored valley.

Judging by the reports that come from abroad, those who have a good wheat crop have a valuable asset. Russia wants her own crop, if her peasants are to be fed properly. This, of course, does not mean that she will not export wheat. This will be done, though the peasants are on short supplies. It is unfortunate that the methods are not better for growing wheat in the northwest. With good yields and good prices, the growers would make excellent returns. These, however, during recent years, have been reserved for Canada rather than for the northwestern states, because of the large yields obtained over there. Surely the methods will be so improved in this northwest in the near future, that the yields will be increased. This should be the aim of every grower of wheat.

GEO. KREIGER,
La Grande, Oregon.

It seems to be almost a foregone conclusion that another year will slip by and La Grande will have no sewer system.

Yes we must have an improved water supply and a sewer system, but a presently no effort is being made to secure them.

The revenues the fruit growers are receiving and will receive for their crops this year will be in excess of any previous year by many thousands of dollars.

Cement walks should at least be extended on Jefferson Avenue and the business portions of Fir street this year.

Within the next sixty days, La Grande will have a new city jail. A city should be made to pay damages for each and every incarceration in such an unsanitary vermin ridden bastille, used for the past number of years.

To maintain the reputation we have acquired for supplying the needs of our many patrons in every department, a reputation we point to with pardonable pride, we want, now, to advise you that we have opened our soda fountain with a new line of crushed fruits and fruit juice which excel any which we have ever had, and while we may occasionally find a party who has never tried one of our delicious ICE CREAM SODAS we find a hundred who have, and do, and always will, because they want the best and appreciate a fine article. We have some new flavors this year which are going to be of universal favor on account of their delicate flavors. Hoping you will kindly favor us with an early call, so we may show you.
