JOURNEY ALMOST ENDED

Ezra Meeker, the old pioneer who starts from The Dalles March 1 in a prairie schooner drawn by an ox team to retrace old "Oregon trail" is now in eastern Wyoming. All doubt as to his making a success of his undertaking has been removed and it will be a few weeks before he enters Omaha. He is in good health and spirits and his ox team is in excellent condition. The summer has been ideal for his trip and he has met with unlooked for encouragement along the entire trip.

His old prairie schooner and oxen attract much attention.

His last important stop was made at Quinsy Wyo., at Casper Wyo. a $500 monument and fountain was erected to the pioneers through his efforts.

Up to the present time he has traveled 1240 miles from The Dalles and is now only 500 miles from Omaha. A total of 18 monuments have been erected by him along the trail.

Lively Runaway

The rig struck a telephone pole just west of the Foley House where the horse left the rig and came very near entering the office room of the hotel. The harness and wagon were considerably wrecked.

NOT A BON FIRE BUT A LAWN FIRE

The fire department answered a call early this morning, but according to established custom, it was a mistake. However, the monotony of these false alarms was broken this morning when it was discovered that in place of the usual bon fire, the cause for this morning's excitement was some dry grass on a lawn that was burning.

RAILROADERS FIGHT FIRE

The railroad crew on the Elgin branch took a hand at fighting fires yesterday. While passing a bunch of dry grass and weeds near Imbler, sparks from the engine lodged in them and instantly a blaze followed. Baggage man A. W. Lefell noticed the fire from the baggage car, giving the signal, soon had the train at a standstill. However before the train could be backed to the scene the fire had consumed the weeds and was spreading to a field of ripe oats. The fire aided by a strong wind, put up a stubborn fight and before it was under control the crew had exhibited some latent talent in firefighting. It is indeed fortunate that the large field of grain remains standing.
