CHRISTIAN WORKERS IN CONFERENCE

(Scripps News Association) Northfield, Mass., Aug. 3.—The twenty-fourth general conference for Christian Workers opened here today and will remain in session until August 19. The conference, which was called by W. R.
Moody, the noted evangelist, who will be the leading figure at the meetings, promises to be of unusual interest and great importance. The managers of this conference are planning to have a sub-conference from August 6 to 11, to be held in connection with the regular August meetings at which the difficult problems of evangelists will be taken up by men who have proved themselves successful as pastor evangelists. The scheme is to have each afternoon fifteen minute addresses or set topics, and then an hour given to an open conference, in which questions may be asked and plans and methods submitted that have been found effective in various fields. These discussions promise to be valuable, not only to young ministers who are inexperienced in evangelistic work, but also in centralizing and classifying the various fields of activity.

SOCIETY BELLES IN WHEAT FIELDS

Walla, Walla, Wash., July 31.—Insolent and worthless men who are out to kill time or get unreasonable wages, have no more terrors for John I. Yeend, former state senator, who resides in Walla Walla and owns a large wheat ranch on Dry creek. The labor problem was becoming vexing for Mr. Yeend, his grain being ripe and requiring immediate attention. Men being scarce and surly and unreasonable in their demands, it looked anything but encouraging for Mr. Yeend, when his wife and daughters surprised him by proposing to go to the fields and help harvest the crop.

Mr. Yeend has four daughters who are among the popular society women of Walla Walla. Two of them were already assisting their father by cooking for the harvest crew. At first Mr. Yeend was inclined to refuse the offer, but as his daughters were so much in earnest, he has decided to let them assist.

Miss Alma will drive a header box, while Miss Bertha will operate the derrick.
But the four sisters will probably change about with the work. The young women will arise at daylight, feed and harness their teams and take their turns at the derrick and header box. The girls are delighted with the idea of helping their father, who thinks he has solved the labor problem.—Spokesman Review.

ADVENTISTS HOLD CAMPMEETING

erty Street. The president, the Rev. G.
H. Wallace, will preside, and the singing will be conducted by the Rev. C. M. Sasmans of Chelsea, who will also have charge of the children's meetings. The Rev. Miles Grant will have charge of the love feast. The annual business meeting will be held next Tuesday.
