BEAVER CREEK WATER

There is plenty of water in Beaver creek to furnish, La Grande for many years with pure, cold unmineralized water. The committee, appointed by the council to investigate this water supply, reported to the council that about 1800,000 gallons were flowing every twenty-four hours.

This amount of water, at the very driest season of the year is about eighteen times as much as the city used at any time last year according to statements made by the water superintendent. The government will set aside, as a permanent reserve for the use of the city, the water-sheds of this creek, when proper application has been made by the city council. The cost of conducting the water to La Grande will be a small sum compared with results attained by securing a gravity system to say nothing of the quantity and purity of the water.

VALUABLE LAND

A Wenatchee orchardist coldy refused an offer of $1800 an acre for his 10 acre orchard this week. And in no respect was the land or the trees superior to lots of orchards in the Grande Ronde Valley that can be bought for one-third the price.

The highest price ever paid for local orchard was $700 an acre, but the time is soon coming when $1000 an acre will not be unusual.

RUSSIA'S SHAME

Because she remarked that a detachment of the Czar's troops looked, "as gay as if they had taken Port Arthur!" a young Russian girl was promptly seized and publicly whipped. When it comes to making war on women, children and cripples, the Russian troops are in a class by themselves.

REALISTIC

The regular troops who are practicing in the American Lake encampment are certainly entering into the spirit of realism, and at every sham engagement are deserting in numbers. The demand for labor at $3 a day, makes Uncle Sam's little old $15 a month look small to the veterans and that is the reason for the desertions.

The town of Durkee has been rustling the rustlers.

Beaver creek water will taste good in La Grande, and no pumping station will be needed to bring it here.

Successful hunters are hereby notified that, The OBSERVER office positively refuses to accept more than one-quarter of venison at a time.

The deaths of ten linemen in a few weeks, each of which occurred in the discharge of duty, was too much for Portland. The dangerous wires are to be put underground at a cost of $500,000.

Harrington, a small Washington town has opened a reading room for harvest hands. Each evening, after only an eight hours day's work and with time heavy on their hands, these brainy sons of toil devour Dante and Marie Correll.

The special train bringing Vice-President Fairbanks and party to the National Irrigation congress, at Boise is scheduled to arrive in the capital city of Idaho on the morning of September 5th. A public reception will be held that evening to the distinguished guests of the congress.

Russia is having about all the grades of political reformers known. It has had the anarchist, the socialist, the socialist democrats, and it has come to the educational democrats. The people should find one there some help to them.

The Chicago banker, Stensland, who absconds, with two millions of his confiding depositor's money, is reported to have taken a double-sized trunk with him. Naturalis he had to have some place to store away the loot.

The Gans-Neison prize fight to occur on Labor Day at Goldfield Nevada, for purse of $40,000 will bring together thousands of sporting men from all over the United States. If Gans, who is a negro, is whipped there will be crepe on all the Pullmans next month.

It is reported from Ohio that the two-cent railroad fare has not hurt the railroads, after all. It has injured their chief competitors, the electric lines, which cover that State, and has nearly doubled the volume of business for the steam roads.—Ex.

There is a fear in Republican circles that Uncle Joe Cannon is not making such a plutonian success of his own congressional campaign, owing, largely, to the interest President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, is taking.—Ex.

MANY EAGLES PARADE

(Scraps News Association)
Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 15—There were twenty thousand in the Eagle's parade today. Politics center about the next place which will likely be in New England.

The fight for presidency of the Eagles is between H. D. Davis of Ohio, and Edward Krause of Delaware. The convention was surprised by the election of Lieutenant Governor Coon for vice president against Theodore Bell of Napa, Cal. The business session was dropped for the parade.
