HE CALLED HIM PROMPTLY

Dr. Smith was in town yesterday from Boise. He has a brand new story, which he is relating to his friends, which runs something like this. There was a new night clerk on duty at one of the Boise hotels. A guest wanted to be called at 7 o'clock. The new man looked at the call sheet and found that all the spaces for that hour had been filled in, and remarked to the guest: "You'll have to take a 7:30 call; all the 7 o'clocks are occupied."—Mountainhome Maverick.

How Dr. Smith got hold of the story is not known. There was an effort on the part of the hotel people to keep it quiet, but at any rate it is evident Dr. Smith was not given the correct version. Now that the cat is out of the bag the real facts might as well be given. The guest told the clerk he wished to be called at 8 o'clock. After the guest had retired the new clerk happened to remember that he went off duty at 7 o'clock; that he would not be on hand to call the guest at 8 o'clock. He thought over the matter a while and then solved the problem. He called the guest twice at 4 o'clock—Boise Statesman.

FOREST FIRE IN MEXICO

(Scripps News Association)
Sonora, Mex., Aug. 18.—Destructive forest fires are still raging through the section bounded by the South Fork of the Stanislaus river and Rose creek. The burned district covers nine miles in length and three miles in width. Last night the fire jumped across the South Fork and a determined fight is now being made to save the saw mill and valuable improvements on the Kelta mine. The progress of the flames have in a measure been checked on the west, but they are still sweeping eastward. The flames are now consuming a valuable timber belt and a crew of fire fighters left this morning for a confident and determined fight. The timber belt that is now threatened represents a million dollars in money.

NEW BAKER SCHOOL HOUSE

The new $20,000 school building in North Baker is rapidly assuming proportions of a completed structure. The frame is up to the second story and the work is being rushed as fast as men can be secured to do the work.

This building, when completed, will have eight large, well lighted and well heated school rooms as well as all the conveniences of cloak rooms, closets, class rooms etc. In shape and general appearance it closely resembles the South Baker building, but differing in the respect that the second story ceilings will be two feet higher above the windows.

The entire building will be heated by steam.—Baker City Democrat.

OLD AND RESPECTED

The meeting at Minneapolis was the fourtieth national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. The organization was formed forty years ago last April, and the first encampment was held in November of that year. There was no encampment, however in 1867. Since no soldier or sailor can obtain membership who were not in service prior to April 9, 1865, no member at this encampment can be less than 59 years of age. The membership numbered 409,487 in 1890, a year ago it was 232,055, and the death rate is gradually increasing.

NEW YORK TO FRISCO TO BREAK RECORDS

New York Aug. 18.—An effort to break the automobile record from this city to San Francisco in a two-cylinder car started at 3 o'clock this morning from Herald square. Richard Little and Christian Hargerity of Chicago, were in the machine.

LIFE TIME OWNERSHIP

In discussing the wisdom of extending public ownership of public utilities, the San Francisco Chronicle expresses a thought which frequently comes to persons who run up against life-time officials. It says: "When public servants in America betray a disposition to do anything else than draw their salaries, we may begin to think of trusting them with important works; until then we had better depend on individual effort, which accomplishes something at least, even though faults may mark the doing."

EQUALIZERS AFTER WALLA WALLA

The county board of equalization at Walla Walla not only advanced the assessment of nearly all the saloons in the town but found three that were not on the tax list at all. They are owned by Peter Werner, who owns the Horseshoe saloon on Main Street, was assessed at $800; S. Stovall, who owns the Depot saloon on Elm Street, was assessed at $600, and John Potras, owner of the Owl on Alder Street, was assessed at $600.—Pendleton E. O.

MEDFORD POST OFFICE BURNS

The post office building at Eagle Point, the eastern terminus of the Medford-Crater Lake railroad, burned Friday morning. The loss is about $1500 and the insurance $700. Postmaster Florey occupied the building as a residence. His family was absent in the mountains, except one boy, who had a narrow escape from the fire, escaping in his night clothes.
