Pacific Northwest Convention, Spokane, Washington, Tuesday, September 25, 1906, at 10:00 a m

As a result of extended conference held at Portland and Spokane, under the auspices of the Executive Committee of the Portland Commercial Club and the Publicity Committee of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce, it was unanimously decided to hold a convention at Spokane and invite the co-operation of every commercial and industrial body in the states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana to participate through representative delegations.

The purpose of this gathering is to bring together the representative men of this most prosperous section of the United States, and after thorough consultation unite upon a plan to advertise the actual resources and not to exploit the peculiar advantages of any of the cities.

In all this vast empire the greatest resource is timber, the principal cereal is wheat the chief fruit the apple, the greatest force water power, and the most necessary development increased irrigation, while mining and stockraising are equally important.

Every city and town in the four states is equally interested in securing the home-builder, for it is only through increased population that we can develop these tremendous resources which are of necessity the foundation upon which our cities must be permanently prosperous.

The officers and active members of the leading commercial organizations in the Pacific Northwest have discussed this meeting and have promised to be present personally. The lowest possible railroad rates will be made, and the work of this convention will be watched with interest by the Passenger and Immigration officials of all the transcontinental railroads, many of whom will attend. There is a universal disposition throughout all this section of the United States to have its resources advertised, its busiest and best men are ready to put up their money and give them time.

It is expected that the legislature of all the four interested states may be induced to make appropriations for advertising their own peculiar advantages and the lawmakers of the four states will be very much interested in the deliberations of this convention, and for that reason all delegates are urged to ascertain the sentiment in their immediate communities before coming to the Convention.

We are anxious that our locality should be represented.

Hope their call will be taken as a personal appeal by every community it reaches.

Hoping to meet you at Spokane, Tuesday, September 25th, we are,

Very cordially yours,
