FALLS FROM PASSENGER TO GROUND

S. M. Eambree, a traveling barber, is now lying at the county poor farm near Union, with a broken leg.

For the past week he had been employed in the Coffey barber shop of this city and Saturday evening left for Pendleton on the late number five. Because he was a traveling barber does not infer that he was stealing a ride, for he had purchased a ticket to that place. At Hilgard he stepped to the vestibule to smoke, and, according to his own story, the door was not closed. When the passenger had attained its regular speed, the man leaned over to expectorate. Simultaneously, the train lurched and Eambree was thrown from the moving train, falling in such a way as to break his right leg near the hip. The accident was not noticed by anyone, and consequently the man lay there writhing in pain from about eleven thirty at night until eight thirty Sunday morning, at which time he was seen by the engineer on passenger number six. He was picked up and brought to this city where Doctor M. K. Hall temporarily set the break and shipped him to the county poor farm at Union.

Mr. Eambree formerly owned a barber shop in Idaho and it is only lately that he has taken to the roaming business.

WILL RETIRE

The owner of the Union Woolen mills announces that he expects to close down that highly prosperous institution about the first of the coming year, unless it is sold and operated by others. He finds his hands full at the present time and is compelled to drop some one of the different enterprises under his control. It is doubtful if there is a better paying institution in the valley than the Union Woolen Mills, and the determination of the owner to retire from this line of work opens a way for younger blood to take up the proposition and push it. The mills will bear enlarging and operating upon a more extensive basis and it rests with our capitalists to keep the concern going. Several of our leading men have signified a willingness to take stock in the enterprise, and it would seem that there is ample capital in this section to take up the entire stock, enlarge the mill and run it to the limit. There is now and has been for several years, a demand for more blankets than this mill can possibly make, and the opening seems to be all that capital should desire or should expect of any business proposition.—Union Republican.

PREPARING NAVAL ESTIMATES

(Scripture News Association)
Washington, D. C., September, 17—The naval bureau chiefs are at work on their annual estimates, which are to be ready for departmental adoption within a few weeks. There was a chance this year that Secretary Bonaparte would depart from the method adopted by Secretary Moody and permit the bureau officials to make up their own estimates for revision by the department, instead of requiring them to submit only such recommendations as the department chose to approve in advance. It is held that the bureau chiefs should be allowed to make the estimates they believe to be justified and that the department should then revise them and submit the finally approved list, along with the bureau estimates to Congress. This would have one effect, at least greatly desired by the bureau chiefs—that of relieving them of the blame for cutting down estimates which comes from the navy yards and stations. It is expected the reductions to be made this year will equal the revision of last year.

THEN---AND NOW

We all know the typewriter has come to stay. We discovered that long ago. It is only a question which typewriter, for the word is well and truly used in the singular sense.

The typewriter that has come to stay is not the one of ten years back, when innovation caused such a stir in business circles. Then nobody ever thought of associating the word "alignment" with a typewriter; it satisfied the user so long as the machine would write some fashion or other, and with constant break-downs ever-present repair bills were paid smilingly. But things are different now. Time tests all things. The business man has become wise. He wants what he pays for. He has learned the value (from dearly-bought experience) of a machine which will write properly, not only the day it is bought, but perpetually. He also wants to be satisfied upon the peculiarities of the many machines now before the public. The individual claims of our product places its position beyond all question, and the few particulars we give on the following pages will, no doubt be found of interest to those buyers who "want what they pay for"

ABOUT THE OLIVER

The No. 5 Model, which has secured such a firm foothold on the universal markets, constitutes what is reckoned as the most perfect typewriter possible.

WHY?

Here is our answer—
IT WRITES IN SIGHT
There is no carriage to lift; no constructional parts to peer over. Your work is there—right before you.

ALIGNMENT

Each type-bar is a double or U-shaped one and the alignment is secured thereby. No slots or so-called "guides" are necessary to preserve the alignment of the Oliver. The U-shaped type-bar does it.

SIMPLICITY

In the construction of the Oliver less than one-half the usual number of parts is employed, consequently what there is to learn is learnt quickly.

MANIFOLDING

The freedom of the Oliver type-bar permits of any desired force, so that in heavy manifolding equally good results are obtained first to last copy. From one to twenty copies can be made simultaneously, without materially increased exertion.

STENCILING

No extra-heavy touch is needed to cut a perfect stencil on the Oliver. The ordinary touch is sufficient, therefore all risk of "cutting out" is avoided. The type of the Oliver cut the finest stencils possible.

OPERATION

The Oliver never tires. Its operation is a pleasure, even when used without intermission. Its touch is beautifully elastic and most responsive. The fastest operator cannot overtake its speed.

NON-LOCKING TYPE-BARS

The type-bars of the Oliver cannot lock, no matter how many keys be depressed at one time.

TYPE CLEANING

The type of the Oliver are not, as with other machines, cleaned individually, but collectively, and the ease with which this cleaning is done makes excuse for dirty type impossible.

LINE RULING

Lines, either vertical or horizontal, and in any color, may be ruled upon paper whilst it is in the machine, and without the aid of a ruler. Ordinarily, any necessary ruling is left, of course, until it can be done in the usual way, but is usually forgotten.

REMOVABLE CARRIAGE

The carriage is removed from the machine (for cleaning and other purposes) instantly, without manual interferences with any fastenings whatever, and is just as easily replaced.

PAPER RELEASE

By a single movement absolute freedom is given to the paper, leaving it to be either straightened or otherwise moved in any desired position. No force is necessary, consequently no soiling or tearing of the paper occurs.

CARD WORK

The Oliver typewriter will feed the stiffest and stoutest card as easily as a single sheet of paper.

A WORD ON INVOICING

If there is anything which demonstrates to the full the value of the Oliver for tabular work, it is invoicing. To those users of hidden-writing machines who attempt to satisfactorily prepare invoices thereon, the futility of such a task must surely be apparent. Mechanical contrivances (known as "tabulators") have been devised, it is true, to assist them, but so much time is lost in "setting" the mechanism, to which must be added the constant raising of the carriage (occasioned by the operator's lack of confidence in the tabulator), that the invoice could very well be written by hand in half the time. Furthermore, tabulators on other than Oliver typewriters, interfere very seriously with vital parts of the typewriter itself, rendering it very unreliable for ordinary use.

The Oliver is the ideal machine for invoicing. With its visible writing, permanent printing point, indicator and perfect release key, margins are instantly found and maintained—all with greatest simplicity. No tabulator is necessary on the Oliver, but, if one is wanted, we supply the best tabulator made. Bear in mind, however, that we save extra cost and give better results.

Again, with the wonderful manifolding power of the Oliver, it will make as many copies of an invoice as required, and every copy clear and distinct.

The use of an Oliver for invoicing insures—

Speed, legibility, efficiency, economy, neatness and regularity.

The Oliver is already adopted by some of the largest business houses for invoicing as well as correspondence purposes, further particulars of which we shall be pleased to furnish on application.
