Some Boston bears who tried to sit on steel common are regretting the attempt. Evidently mistook it for Boston Common.

If Patti carried out her announced purpose of another farewell tour of America she will discover fewer standing patriars here than ever before.

Somebody suggests for the benefit of Kansas City that the Missouri might be made navigable farther up, if they would only filter the water!

Throwing rice at wedding processions is a custom not always improved upon by foreign imitators. In Russia they have been substituting bombs for rice.

Christian people observe Sunday as the Sabbath day. The Greeks observe Monday, the Persians Tuesday, the Assyrians Wednesday, the Egyptians Thursday, the Turks Friday, the Jews Saturday. Thus a perpetual Sabbath is celebrated on earth.

A trip through the valley at this time will convince even the man with the chronic case of the blues that this valley is a long way from bankruptcy. The long lines of teams loaded with wheat and the numerous steam threshing outfits and the broad smiles which decorate the faces of the well pleased farmer all tend to dispel any thoughts of hard times or stringency in the money market.

Here is a minister who appreciates the editor. At a recent editorial convention he offered the following toast: "To save an editor from starving, take his paper and pay for it promptly. To save him from bankruptcy, advertise in his paper liberally. To save him from despair, send him every item of news of which you can get hold. To save him from profanity, write your correspondence plainly on one side of the sheet and send it in as early as possible. To save him from distress, bury him. Dead people are the only ones who never make mistakes."

Help the editor in gathering the news. Don't let him get it slow. The minister is said to get some of his news by pumping. If you see him and have heard a piece of news, give him the tip—tell him the rest if you don't see him. Tell him up on the phone. —Ed

It is interesting to notice that Boston celebrated its 225th birthday by the formal opening of its publicity bureau. When a city of the age and size of Boston begins to realize the advantages of the modern form of promoting population and prosperity, Spokane needs no excuse for its energy and activity in starting a publicity campaign. —Spokane Star Review.

IN THE COUNTY COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF UNION STATE OF OREGON

In the Matter of the Estate of
Rhoda E. Cameron deceased

To Isaac Reailey and Rhoda Lee Cameron, heirs of the above named deceased, and to all unknown heirs, greeting.

In the name of the State of Oregon, you are hereby cited and required to appear in the county Court of the State of Oregon, for the county of Union, at the Court Room thereof at La Grande in the County of Union, on Monday the eleventh day of October 1906, at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day, that there be shown cause if any you have why the petition of W. F. Flanighan, Administrator of the above entitled estate praying for an order authorizing him to sell the S. E. 1/4 of Section 2, Tp. 25-S. 35 E. W. 4 M. should not be granted and said estate sold and proceeds thereof be applied to the paying of debts and taxes thereon.

Witness my hand this 11th day of September for the County of Union, at the Court of said County at La Grande, this 11th day of September, 1906.
