CLIPPINGS FROM OUR EXCHANGES

People in Joseph are getting more and more disgusted with the mail schedule now in effect. It is certain that before the summer schedule goes into effect next year that Uncle Sam will be told pretty plainly how the patrons feel about a mail service that is behind service given by others. What most people can't see is why the present contractors cannot travel on the schedule the old ones did. It's not a question of stage lines but of service. Time after time orders have been filled for this place and the articles here were before the invoice necessitating a wait until the mail of Uncle Sams came jogging along to ascertain the cash.—Wallowa Chieflain.

SCANDAL IN GRAIN BAGS
 Walla Walla, Wash., Oct. 20.—One of the important questions taken up by the state board of control on its recent visit to the penitentiary was an investigation into the charges that the distribution of penitentiary grain bags has been improperly made, and that a large number were procured in various parts of the state for speculative purposes.
 The board went into the matter thoroughly, and it is said that some startling disclosures were made. Among other things it is found that the form of application sent out by Warden Kees to be filled out by farmers applying for grain bags has been changed from the form prescribed by the board and used in previous years, without its knowledge.—Tribune.

LOWER LIMB CUT BY FALL
 Mrs. Wood, mother of Mrs. Link, fell, while on her way to the depot at Baker City, last Friday night, and sustained a severe cut on one of her lower limbs which necessitated a number of stitches by Drs. May and Francis on Saturday. She has, however, been getting on as well as could be expected since. The place where she fell is a dangerous point at best, for people on foot, who travel the highway to the depot, especially by night when the electric lights are not giving good service. The cut was evidently sustained from contact with glass or some other sharp edged substance.—Haines Record.

AS OLD AS THE HILLS
 It is amusing to hear the Portland and Baker City dailies and other papers rave about the high mountain peak, which was recently discovered by a surveyor. The papers state that it is higher than Mt. Hood and call the new peak Mt. Eagle. Columns have been devoted to the new find and Mt. Hood has slid into the back ground of insignificance. It is amusing from the fact that the people of Wallowa and Union counties have known of this mountain for years.
 In Wallowa county and Elgin, Eagle Cap, which name was given the mountain several years ago, is as familiar as Mt. Hood, or even more so. This mountain has been the pride of the residents of Wallowa county for several years, and organized parties have ascended the peak several times. The discovering surveyor and daily papers will have to strike a new lead before they can create a new sensation in this part of the state as Eagle Cap is as old as the hills.—Elgin Recorder.

PLENTY OF STEEL
 The Central Railroad people have steel "to burn" this week and the work of laying the same will proceed vigorously. They now have the material and a goodly force of men, so it is fair to presume that there will be something doing in the railroad circles soon.—Union Republican.

ROUTE OF THE NORTHWESTERN
 The Northwestern Railroad company has filed a certified copy of its articles of incorporation at Boise, Idaho.

They set forth that the purpose of the company is "to construct, equip, maintain and operate a line of railroad and telegraph and telephone lines on such route as the company may select, from a point on the Oregon Short Line railway between the towns of Huntington in Baker county, Ore., and the first crossing of Snake river, east of said town of Huntington, at or near a place called Eagle, and extending thence in a general northerly direction along or near the Snake river to a point at or near the town of Lewiston, in the state of Idaho, a distance of 150 miles, more or less, extending a portion of said distance on the Oregon side of said river and the remaining portion on the Idaho side thereof, and crossing the river at such places as shall hereafter be selected; as to construct, purchase, maintain and operate teams and water craft upon the Snake river for the carriage of freight, passengers, etc."—Pendleton E. C.
