For decoration, Mrs. Bartlett had hit upon a new and unique scheme. Every nook and corner in the home was filled either with a bundle of huge corn stalks or a sheaf of wheat. The beautiful colors that nature has given these two specie of grain were resplendent in all their glory, and the effect was a very pretty one. The same colors were adhered to in serving the refreshments. Salad served in baskets carried by white ribbons, wafers, drop cake and coffee were served. Those present were:

CELEBRATED PROMOTION

Dan McGraw was arraigned this afternoon before Justice Hough on a charge of disturbing the peace at Hilgard this morning.

It seems that about ten days ago, the defendant was promoted from his position as a section hand near Hilgard, to section foreman. As a proper celebration of the event, McGraw took unto himself a beautiful jag and kept increasing it until this morning when he was fairly crazy with drink. Early this morning he provided himself with a gun and started a bombardment against the glassware of Hilgard's saloon. Officials arrested him and brought him to La Grande where he was turned over to sheriff Childers. After hearing the complaint read he quietly rolled a cigarette and said, "I'm guilty judge. How many days will I have to lie in jail?" "In case you can't pay the state of Oregon $25, you will have to lie there twelve and a half days," the judge explained. "Well, I guess it will do me good," soliloquized the confessed peace disturber, as he was led away to the county jail.

JAP INJURED

This morning's freight train number 23 struck a Japanese section hand this morning at Hilgard and seriously injured him. Though the engineer of the train whistled several times the Jap did not seem to realize that the alarm was sounded for him and remained on the track until the engine struck him. He was dragged along the rails beneath the pilot for a distance of fifty or sixty feet before he was dislodged. The engine belonging to the work train brought the unfortunate man to this city where he was cared for by Drs. Bacon and Hall. It is not that that his injuries will prove fatal. He is more bruised than cut.

TAKE PRISONERS TO SALEM

Sheriff F. P. Childers, Deputy Sheriff Tom Johnson and Mr. J. A. Matott left this afternoon for Salem, taking with them two prisoners who have been sentenced to terms in the state prison. Bernice Lockhart, convicted of removing money from the person of another, and sentenced to one year; Edmonds, who was found guilty of breaking into a box car and removing several articles of value, and sentenced to two years, were the prisoners.
