MEN WANTED

A sign has been displayed in front of J. W. White's grocery store on Fir street for two days reading "20 men wanted to cut wood and ties." Of the hundreds who have passed by this sign only one man has stepped inside for particulars. The price offered per cord for cutting wood is $1.25 and 12 1/2 cts. for making ties. Usual conditions, that sign would not have been out over night.

Mr. George H. Himes, of the Oregon Historical Society, Portland, returned to La Grande from Boise City, this morning. During the week since he left this city he visited Baker City, Huntington, Ontario, Nampa and Boise, finding a number of pioneers, some of them as far back as 1845, and one, Mr. A. L. Richardson, of Boise, who came in 1843. His father died at Fort Hall, and his mother went on to Oregon City that Fall, and the following year she went into partnership with a noted character at the falls city by the name of Sidney W. Moss, a pioneer of 1842, a Methodist minister named Rev. A. F. Waller, a pioneer of 1840, preparing the necessary legal papers and performing the ceremony. There were not many pioneers of the days prior to 1856 but that knew the "Main Street House," over which "Mr. Moss and the Widder" presided. It was here that Joseph Showater Smith, a pioneer of 1844, and who was elected to Congress in 1868 on the Democratic ticket—a large detachment of "Pap Price's Army" contributing overwhelmingly to that result, to the utter consternation and disgust of the Western Oregon Republicans—was given the famous nickname of "Carving Fork" Smith, which he carried to the end of his life. The surprise in the Republican camp may be well imagined when Logan, then standard bearer, came to the Cascade mountains with 1200 majority, and had that wiped out and a majority of 1200 the other way secured by the presence of the "Price Contingent," already alluded to. At Baker City Mr. Himes had a very interesting interview with Mrs. Miriam Bonney Hibler, a pioneer of 1845, who spent the winter of 1845-6 at Sutter's Fort, near the present city of Sacramento California. As the Bonney family was descending the Sierra Nevada mountains, Mrs. Hibler, then a girl of fourteen, picked a handful of little nuggets, thus discovering gold two years before James W. Marshall, an Oregonian of 1844, found it at the mill race of Sutter's mill, his alleged "first" discovery being on January 24, 1848. Not long since Mr. Himes secured a San Francisco paper, "The Californian," of March 15, 1848, which contains the first printed reference to Marshall's discovery. This is about a "stickful" in length—two inches—without "scare heads" and apparently was not considered of any more importance than a street brawl or a dog fight. Times have changed.

Mr. Himes will go on to Pendleton tomorrow, and will stop at The Dalles and Hood River before returning to Portland. He considers that his trip has been a very successful one, as he has gathered much data that will be of great importance to those who, in the future have occasion to study the history of the Pacific Northwest.

LOST—Either at the Opera house Thursday evening or between there and First street, a stick pin in shape of a spider with small diamond setting. Finder return to this office and receive reward.

FOR SALE—Good young work team about 1100 lbs. inquire at Farmers Feed Yard.

SCIATICA

Sciatica in nearly every case is the simple result of pressure on the sciatic nerve or on one of the several nerve strands that leave the lower part of the spine to form that great nerve. Curing the trouble is to a skilled anatomist like the Osteopath, a simple matter of finding just where the pressure is occurring and then doing a ray with such pressure by mechanical manipulation suited to the case. Operations such as are frequently performed by surgeons in extreme cases are never necessary—for exactly the same results are secured by the Osteopath through the use to certain leverages in the application of which he is the master.

Osteopathy has made a great record in the treatment of sciatica—a record entirely unprecedented—and may be said to be the treatment for the trouble.

WOMAN

"Woman" is the name of a new magazine for women. The first number is just issued. Your newsdealer has it. You can get it from him, and it is worth your while getting it. There is nothing startling about this magazine. There should be nothing startling about a decent magazine for women and the home. But this particular magazine is unique among all the so-called publications for women. You might not like it a little bit, and then, again, it might hit your fancy good and hard.

If you like fiction—good, wide-awake, snappy stories—both serials and short stories—you will like "Woman." In fact, fiction is the big feature of the magazine.

All the other magazines for women are cast on the same model—a little bit of fiction, a few articles, more or less chit chat, some wise advice, a fashion department and a smattering of general miscellany. "WOMAN" doesn't look any more like this conventional model than a yellow dog looks like a race horse. It is built on new lines for a strictly woman's publication. To know what it is like you will have to get a copy of it. It would cost too much to tell you all about it in this advertisement.

The price of "WOMAN" is TEN CENTS A COPY, and the magazine is a very big one—192 pages.

By the way, two rattling good serial stories begin in this first number and it contains a big lot of other good things. You would do well to ask your dealer for it before his supply is exhausted.
