TROUBLE NOT OVER IN CUBA

(Scripps News Association)
Havana, Nov. 9.—A political storm is likely to break in Havana at any moment. The Liberals have called on the governor today and demanded to know if the Liberals can expect to soon replace the Moderates in office. If Acting Governor Maguon refuses, the Liberals will begin another government which means that American troops will have to be scattered thru the island to maintain order.

PRICES TO BE ADVANCED

(Scripps News Association)
Philadelphia, Nov. 9.—One effect of the establishment of a new price basis for northern iron ore made by the Hill-Graat Northern Ore deal with the United States Steel Corporation is that Bessemer ore will be advanced seventy-five cents a ton and non Bessemer ore fifty cents a ton. The price is expected to be raised tomorrow.

SEED WATERMELONS

(Scripps News Association)
Lawson Okla., Nov. 9.—The experiment of planting 200 acres of watermelons for the production of seed near here has proved very successful. The price will be about 2 cents a pound. Much of the seed has been used in making syrups.

(Scripps News Association)
Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 9.—Judges have ordered a lot of boxes to be brought into court for count today. Big frauds have been unearthed. In one district where the Republican candidate for district attorney is credited with four hundred votes, the boxes showed but six blank ballots in one and the other box empty.

SHOT MAN WHO KILLED HIS WIFE

(Scripps News Association)
Philadelphia, Nov. 9.—Frederick Hornberger fatally shot a man named Schaffhauser at noon today. Hornberger entered the water department of the city offices and demanded an interview with Schaffhauser. When told the latter was busy the man grew excited and shot thru a glass door, the bullet hitting Schaffhauser in the neck. The victim fell to the floor, but the enraged man entered the office and shot him four times more. During the shooting Hornberger said, "You have killed my wife and I will kill you."

It is declared that Schaffhauser was intimate with Mrs. Hornberger and communicated a fatal disease.

The victim was taken to the jail hospital where he died. The murderer's wife died early in September from a criminal assault by Schaffhauser.

Frederick K. Chaffhauser, the star witness in the conspiracy case against John W. Hill, the former head of filtration bureau, was shot while on the seventh floor of the city hall today, two bullets lodging in the abdomen.

FRIENDS OF MINERS REMOVED

(Scripps News Association)
Denver, Nov. 9.—Complete returns show that the last of the district judges, who are accused of favoring the Western Federation of Labor, retired by ballot. A large percent of the district attorneys in former years have been accused of favoring the western miners, and Tuesday's elections despatched the last of the lot.

WHALE FAILURE

(Scripps News Association)
Dundas Scotland Nov. 9.—The whale fishery this season at Davis strait and off the coast of Queensland has been a complete failure and whalers are daily returning here almost empty. The failure is due to the great hurricanes of July and August which packed the narrow seas with ice and prevented the whales from reaching the fishing grounds in time. At present the market price of whalebone is $17 500 a ton and is likely to increase.

In the end of September two whalers got nipped in the ice but their crews were saved by crossing the ice to Prince William Land which they reached in an exhausted state.

POPE GETTING WEAKER

(Scripps News Association)
Rome, Nov. 9.—The Pope is gradually wasting away, on account of being unaccustomed to confinement in the Vatican. This opinion was expressed today by Lapponi, being his first official announcement regarding the Pontiff's health. The doctor says the Pope's health is only "relatively satisfactory" and thinks eventually the Pope will die as an eagle in a prisoned cage.

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT AT LONG BEACH, CALIFORNIA

(Scripps News Association)
Long Beach, California, Nov. 9.—At 9:45 this morning the center section of the new five story Buxbie building collapsed, burying from twenty-five to thirty people in the ruins. An hour later the west wing of the building also caved in. The other section still stands at ten thirty. Four bodies have been removed from the ruins in the center section, and several wounded people have been removed. As the work of rescue progresses it appears evident that those still remaining in the wreckage are dead. Of the dead recovered so far only one has been identified. William Harte of Long Beach is the one rescued and the other two are Mexicans. The property loss will be $350,000.

It is believed that shifting sands under the foundation is the cause. The building was under course of construction. There was no notice to the workmen of coming danger. Suddenly the entire crew was precipitated beneath a huge pile of concrete and timbers. Within a few moments hundreds of people began the work of rescuing the victims. The structure was reinforced by concrete walls, and when the crash came, these walls were ground to bits.

The body of Dick Perkins, a workman has been identified. Among the seriously injured are Ira Zee, James Parker, an unknown mason, J. Boine, T. Himlay and several other unknown.

JURY WILL HEAR GRAFT CHARGES

(Scripps News Association)
San Francisco, Nov. 9.—The grand jury which was impelled to investigate the charges of municipal graft met this afternoon at two o'clock in Judge Graham's court. A foreman will be appointed and a plan of action outlined. District attorney Langdon was present but there will be no evidence heard until Monday. Nothing will be made public until the jury has looked into the evidence. Prosecutor Heney, it is said, will introduce sensational evidence of grafting, and claims that he has plenty of evidence to convict several officials. Alleged grafting will be presented wherein it is said that Ruef issued licenses to French restaurants, receiving for himself, $28,000.
