Yesterdays fire was a failure. The alarm sounded all right and proper, the department turned out promptly enough, the usual crowd gathered, in fact all that necessity for an entertaining time was the fire. Instead of a burning building and destroyed property, only a pile of rubbish in the railroad yards was being consumed and was being closely watched by the section men.

THE ACTORS BIT

Even actors, who are supposedly wise, sometimes fall prey to pranks committed by others. Last evening during the presentation of Peck's Bad Boy, when the "bad boys" were just having the time of their lives playing pranks on fellow citizens they were suddenly treated to a counter attack. A party of La Grande boys who occupied one of the boxes, duly appreciating the abilities of Buster and Peck, threw them a box of bon bons. When the curtain went down there was a lively scramble by the actors to secure at least one piece of the candy. One minute and a half by the clock and there were screams of fright and pain coming from behind the curtain. The troupe to a man, had eaten some of the candy; and it was fairly loaded with red pepper.

THE HIGHEST POINT

A record in mountain climbing has been achieved by Dr. Fred A. Cook of Brooklyn, who has reached the summit of Mt. McKinley which towers 20,464 feet above the Pacific ocean. It is believed to be the highest point of the North American continent. Mr. Cook's ascension of the mountain is the first on record and follows repeated failures. Dr. Cook was surgeon of the Perry Arctic expedition in 1891-2 and similarly associated with the Belgium expedition of 1897-9.

JAMES ROBERTS AT LIBERTY

James Roberts who yesterday morning was arraigned before the circuit court charged with accepting money, is today a free man.

The jury which heard the case, retired early yesterday afternoon but it was after one o'clock this morning before an agreement was reached. Not guilty, was that agreement. The prisoner was immediately released and needless to say, the way he took to the street was anything but slow. He has been incarcerated nearly five months awaiting trial by the circuit court, and it was generally expected that he would be found guilty as charged, for he was alleged to be complicated with Bernice Lockhart who was convicted of robbing from a person. Roberts went immediately to the hotel Foley and registered and for the first time in months, eat breakfast from a real table.
