WHEN THE BIRDS GO NORTH AGAIN

And every year hath its winter,
 And every year hath its rain—
 But a day is always coming
 When the birds go North again.
 When new leaves swell in the forest,
 And grass springs green on the plains,
 And the alder's veins turn crimson—
 And the birds go North again.
 Oh every heart hath its sorrow,
 And every heart hath its pain—
 But a day is always coming
 When the birds go North again.
 'Tis the sweetest thing to remember,
 If courage be on the wane,
 When the cold, dark days are over,
 And the birds go North again.
 ELLA HIGGINSON.

A long, doleful face is enough to take away the good spirits of a dozen people.

Smile! Oh, yes, smile at everybody and everything; and if you can't smile, grin!

The world is pretty good, considering how many minds it has to please. It can't suit everybody.

The raise in the price of silver will result in many silver mines being operated that have been idle for several years.

No one will ever succeed at anything, he has to push himself to, and when a man's performing work that he has to fight to keep up an interest in, he had better change it as quickly as possible. Luck in most things is largely a matter of care and precaution. If a man has the enthusiastic determination to win he will not stop to worry about what he has to do to "get there," but will take up the first thing at hand and do it as well as he can till something better comes along.

ROOSEVELT AT PANAMA

The tremendous enterprise on the isthmus will lose nothing by the visit of President Roosevelt. He is the one man who should know all about the great project, for that knowledge will be invaluable to the country as the work progresses and the inevitable difficulties arise. That he shall be in a position to cope with all emergencies, lends the assurance of comfort and ultimate success that attaches to everything the man handles. It goes without saying that he will inform himself of the last detail of the work, the plan of operations and the clientele, high and low, in charge of the immense proposition and will have a masterly idea of all the potentialities and be in touch with the last item in the undertaking, so that when Congress or the people want to know "what's what," they will get it unequivocally. There can be no further doubt of the universal desire that Mr. Roosevelt shall succeed himself in the presidency, for, of all men, he is the best equipped on all the great questions before the nation, to solve the incidental problems inherent in them and give definite and wise impetus to the triumphant issue of each and all of them.
 —Astorian.

There are people who brag that they never borrow a nickel, but they go right on borrowing trouble without limit or provocation.

ILLS OW WOMANKIND

The physical organization of woman, altho most delicate and complicated, is so perfect in detail that it should work with regularity and without pain. When it fails to do so, there is evidence sufficient that the wonderful structure is out of adjustment. Drugs may relieve the pain temporarily, but they cannot restore order. Surgery may accomplish something in some cases, but it necessarily endangers life and mars the body structure seriously. Osteopathy is the only system which seeks out the actual basis of the trouble and attempts corrections.

Whether the difficulty be irregular or painful menses, leucorrhoea, barrenness, ovarian troubles, or something else, its existence means simply that the parts at fault have not the vigorous health which is rightfully theirs. Such vigorous health is dependent upon natural regulation of nourishment and nerve force—so that any illness of this nature suggests at once a disturbance in the relations of the anatomical parts, causing interference with blood and nerve supply to the organs which are suffering. The centers of control for blood and nerve supply to these organs are at the spine; so that most of the structural derangements found are there and it is there that most of the Osteopathic treatment is administered. Misadjustment of pelvic bones is also a frequent cause of these troubles. As operations are rarely necessary, and the nature of the Osteopathic treatment makes it without embarrassment to any woman, it would seem obvious that Osteopathy is a boon to women.

Should any doubt this, we would ask them to note oft-quoted words of Mrs. J. B. Foraker (wife of United States Senator Foraker, of Ohio) who once said that "the founder of Osteopathy would have made himself immortal had he discovered nothing more than his system of treating women."
