WINDOW FULL OF BIRD DOGS

A glance into the window of A. V. Andrews' store, will disclose ten of the best bred puppies ever seen in this city. Seven males and three females, the former selling at $25 each, two of which have already been sold to Portland sportsmen, the latter selling for $10 each, making the market value of the display, $205.

The father is Dan Oakley, which Mr. Andrews received from Cleveland, Ohio; registered, as is also the mother, both English Setters. Those who have looked up the pedigree of both animals, pronounce them equal to anything in the state. While all may not remain at home, it is expected that the majority will, and in due course of time, La Grande sportsmen will have dogs second to none on the coast.

MONEY IN SWINE

Mr. W. H. Burk, a young and energetic farmer who owns forty acres on R. F. D. No. 2 was in the city this afternoon marketing six hogs for which he received six ann a quarter cents per pound.

Last April Mr. Burk purchased these six pigs for the sum of fifteen dollars. All the trouble they have been to him was the effort required to open the gate and allow them to get into the stubble field. He has not fed them a single pound of anything other than what they secured from the stubble. Today the porkers brot him even seventy-five dollars.

The profits derived from them was sixty dollars. Sixty dollars in less than seven months is making money easily as well as rapidly.

HEARST SPENT $556,320

New York, Nov. 19.—William Randolph Hearst has certified to the secretary of state that he spent $256,320.22 in promoting his canvass. Governor-elect Hughes has certified that he spent $618,55 in promoting his canvass.

Politicians showed interest when they heard what Hearst spent. Not since the law requiring card dates for public office to file a list of their campaign expenses went into effect a number of years ago has anyone else seeking the favor of voters admitted spending anywhere near that sum for such purposes.

Large as this sum is, the total does not begin to compare with the actual amount Hearst spent from the beginning of his fight to be governor. He spent many thousands of dollars to get the nomination and in organizing the Independence League, distributing free, millions of copies of his paper, and otherwise booming himself. A conservative estimate is every vote he got for governor cost him 30 cents.
