SOCIETY

During the fall months many new members have been received into the Neighborhood Club to whom the club gave a reception in their parlors. Wednesday afternoon inviting as the guests, the Busy Bee Club, of May Park. The rooms were tastily decorated with the club colors, white and yellow, hot house chrysanthemums and potted palms. The afternoon was spent in furnishing a better acquaintance among the members, during which time solos were sung by Mesdames Scroggins and Merton Kiddle, reading by Mesdames Hill and T. Oliver. The refreshment table was presided over by Mesdames Mallory and Bidwell.

The club by the manifested enthusiasm of its members is assured of attaining the objects of its organization.

Entertainment a Success

The entertainment in Central church last evening was a success. The enforced absence of Miss Adams was a disappointment but the other members of the company gave extra numbers and so a full program was rendered.

Mr. Snyder, the pianist is certainly an artist. Under his skillful touch the instrument gave forth a wonderful flood of sweet music. Graham Smith has an excellent voice well under control and his choice selections were very pleasing. Mrs. Gates is an entertainer of a very high order. Her strong, clear voice, her perfect self control and her thoro sincerity in her work, delight a discriminating audience. Her heavier selections were most enjoyed. The only adverse criticism we have heard was that she used too many of the lighter sort. We grew tired of the "Bride elect" in her preparation for the ceremony. This was the poorest selection, still, even in this Mrs. Gates showed fine power. But there was enough of the best to pay us for our time. When we heard the rich man tell his wife of the joy of serving his poor brother in saving his child, our hearts thrilled and we loved mankind. This was splendid.

All in all we were glad to spend the evening listening to these artists. The Popular Course is a success.

Mr. Davis furnished the piano.

OPEN AFTER THE SHOW

C. G. Scheurer wishes to announce that he will keep his place of business open this evening for the benefit of those who wish to finish the evening with one of those delightful tamales. Remember after the show.
