"MADE IN OREGON"

In his advertisement for bids for supplies for the Oregon state penitentiary for the ensuing two years. Superintenddnt James, of the pen'tentiary. says that goods made in Oregon will be given pre-

If every merchant in ordering certain lines of goods for their stocks would be as patriotic, it would not be long until Oregon manufacturies would be swamped with orders and double, or treble the present capacity would be required to to supply the demand.

If every Oregon consumer were likewise patriotic, it would not be long until the Oregon label would be the most con spiculus in the state. As it is, the Ore-

This is not only true of manufactured articles, but of products of the soil. There is a charm to the imported article which wins ordinarily over the homely product of our own dooryard. Oregon must turn hir attention more forcibly to Oregon interests.

There is need of a patriotic awakening, There is need of a watchword which will stir up the home pride of the state .- East Oregonian.

FAMILAR NEWS

The Boston Traveler runs a colun headed "Seventy-five Years ago", in printed an item that has a strangely famflar sound to people even in this day. It says: "There is a scarcity of fue in the market and anthracite coal has rise

Speaking of the coal famine, it is like is that as soon as the coal mines, which are owned by the railroad companies, get rid of all their slack coal, the shortage will end. In the same connection, it is a bit strange that the railroads have cars to haul this slack, but none to haul good coal. -Boise Capital News.

A man who owned an island just off the Pacific coast threatens to bring suit because his property disappeared when the earthquake occurred. The dispatches do not say whether he intends to see the earthquake or make Providence the de-

A visit to the Palmer saw mill, now in course of construction, is well worth your THURSDAY. DECEMBER 15, 1906 while. Everything is bustle and stir. In addition to the large force at work on the in excavating for the large pond which is $6.50 nearing completion. The main buildings are all under cover and when winter actually arrives there will be little if any delay. Work at the other and of the line is being pushed as fast as it is here and it converted into lumber ready for the cars by the time the other end of the mill is reached. It is a much larger plant than anyone, who has not visited the site, can possibly realize

> All the big mining companies of the Butte district have agreed to advance the wages of underground miners 25 cents a day, making the pa. $3.75 for a shift of eight hours. About 10,000 underground miners will be affected by the increase.
