TEST ORCHARDS LOCATED

The three test apple orchards to be grown in Clackamas County under the supervision of the Oregon Experiment Station and Horticultural Commissioner Reid have been located. One will be on the farm of Judge Ryan on the banks of the Willamette, near Oregon City; one on the farm of W. F. Holder at Garfield, and the third on the farm of Arthur Kayler, near Molalla. The Oregon Experiment station supplies the trees and gives directions as to the care of the tree and orchards.--Oregon Agriculturist.

At a recent meeting of the Linn County Council, Patrons of Husbandry, a resolution was adopted heartily favoring the rigid enforcement of the laws in relation to the cleansing of diseased fruit trees.

FOR RENT--A five room furnished cottage on 8th and N street. Inquire of Mrs. G. D. SIMMONS.

PULPIT ASKS FOR MUSIC IN LA GRANDE SCHOOLS

"Music should be a part of the public school curriculum for every child. The time has come when we ought to have music taught in our schools by men or women who do nothing else. Let us stir up the tax payers of the city as well as the school directors so we shall have funds to secure a music teacher to give his entire time to teaching music to our children."

These were the words used by Rev. E. B. Hays last evening in an eloquent address on "The power of music." With a text taken from Psa. 167-8, "O that men would praise the Lord", Rev. Hays defined music and showed how it refines and ennobles. He dwelt on the necessity of music in the business world, the Sunday schools, the churches, the homes and especially in the schools.

Rev. Hays is advocating a worthy cause. As he says, it is high time that music was taught in public schools. The school directors could make no better expenditure of moneys than to provide a music teacher. It is to be hoped that every individual, who has near his heart, the welfare of La Grande's coming generations, will take up this propaganda which Mr. Hays started last night from his pulpit, and not let up until La Grande has a creditable music system in its schools.
