floating debt, thus making a saving of the discount and interest and would float road bonds.

Turner Oliver, on behalf of the Commercial Club, among other good things, said that the civilization of any country was reflected in their public highways, the barbarians using only trails.

County Judge Henry, on behalf of the Association, that he was there to listen; that the entire county court was giving this matter much consideration, that they were now considering the purchase of a rock crusher and roller and expected to build a few miles of good road and that the court desired the cooperation of all the citizens to this end and that by next fall the court expected to have some good roads to show the people and that they expected to spend twice as much as formerly on the county roads. Judge Henry was accorded a generous applause.

The convention was late in calling to order, and President Scott was responding to the address of welcome when our report of the first session closed.

TRAMPLED UNDER FOOT BY HEAVY WORK TEAM

Earl Stevenson, aged forty years, is today suffering from severe injuries received last evening while hauling wood in the hills. While coming down the canyon late yesterday, he met a fellow workman, fast in the snow with a load of wood. Stevenson agreed to hitch his team on the load and assist in pulling the heavy load thru the drift. Both teams were pulling hard to move the load, when the unfortunate Stevenson lost his footing and fell under the wheel team. The horses became scared and began rearing and jumping about, one animal stepping on the man beneath him several times. Stevenson wore a heavy cap, a fact that probably saved his life. The shoes were unable to penetrate the heavy cloth and instead of having his skull crushed, as seems natural, he managed to crawl away from beneath the horse with his skull intact but the skin of his forehead flayed. He was brot to La Grande where Dr. Bacon dressed the wounds. He has two severe cuts in the forehead.
