

OF THE CHOICEST IN THE LAND—

fair maids and brave men—the most cultured, the widest traveled, the fittest to judge of fitting fare for the table, can find naught but praise as their opinion of our Thanksgiving groceries or the fancy luxuries prosperity permits. Our large buying and moderate pricing has much to do with putting groceries of the best sort into the homes of people of ordinary means. A small trial order will convince you of the superiority of our store and our sales methods.

UNION NEWS

[Union Republican]

Alonzo Cleaver is in New York this week on railroad business.

Reports from Portland this week indicate the favorable condition of W. J. Warren, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Warren Portland, this week. Mrs. Warren was formerly Miss Lillie Mitchell, of Union.

A hog that was butchered at the Tom Wilkinson place in High Valley last week dressed 730 pounds and produced 51 gallons of lard.

Adam Crossman, who was severely hurt a couple of weeks ago by falling on the walk, is still confined to his room, one of his limbs having been quite badly injured.

At a meeting of the patrons of School District No. 5, last Saturday, a levy of eight mills was made and Thomas Brasher was elected director in the place of C. E. Cochran, removed from the city.

(Union Scout)

Frank Ross received the sad intelligence Thursday that his father James Ross had died on the 19th inst in far away Nova Scotia.

Supreme Judge Robert Eakin came over from La Grande Sunday for a short visit with friends before assuming his duties at Salem. The Judge has been a resident of this county for many years and has won for himself an enviable reputation.

HEADED FOR SALEM

B. F. Wilson and family left for Portland last Monday, to remain for the winter. Their departure was hastened by the severe illness of Mrs. Wilson's father in Portland. The Judge will probably spend a portion of his time in Salem during the session of the Legislature.—Union Republican.

LARGE IMPORTS OF BEET SUGAR

(Scripps News Association)
Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 29.—Large consignments of beet root sugar are arriving here daily from Stetin and Hamburg. The duty on this sugar is much higher than that on cane sugar but it can be manufactured, so cheaply in Germany that it pays to import it here in large quantities. There is also a great waste in the handling due to the acid in the sugar which injures the texture of the bags so that they tear on the slightest provocation.

CALL FOR BIDS

Bids will be received by the Recorder of the city of La Grande up to and including January 2, 1907 at 5 o'clock p m for all city printing requiring publication in newspapers published within the said city.

DISCOVERY OF ROMAN RELICS

(Scripps News Association)

London, Dec. 29.—Workmen engaged in diverting a roadway at Webwyn, Herts, a few days ago unearthed five Roman coins in a good state of preservation, as well as two others of a different kind, a Roman spur, two drinking bowls, six inches high, a small cup, a bowl, some bronze plate, an iron standard, and a small urn six inches high. Today at a special court the finds were declared to be treasure trove and an order was made for transference to the British Museum. The workman who made the find will be suitably compensated. Webwyn is situated on Great Roman road from London to Gloucester.

DISEASES TREATED BY OSTEOPATHY

What diseases then in the Osteopathy justified in treating, confident that in almost every case he can do as much as, or more, than any other? Negatively, it may be said that if there is a part of the body diseased without cause, or that is not dependent upon the free circulation of the blood and lymph for its nutrition, or that is not maintained in structure and in function by its nerve supply, that part is not amenable to Osteopathic treatment.

Many think, honestly, that Osteopathy is good for chronic diseases, but that it cannot reach acute cases. By what principles of common sense or by what rules of logic one can arrive at that conclusion is hard to understand. Everyone knows that the sooner a displaced or a fractured bone is fixed, the better. Every one knows that the sooner an antidote is given for a poison, or the sooner it is removed, the better. Every Osteopath knows that it is easier to overcome an acute attack of grip and prevent bad after effects than it is to remove the complications so often found after the drug treatment of this terrible malady. The same is true of other acute diseases as well as grip. The little fire just starting is more easily extinguished than the conflagration resulting from it.

It is hard to get people to understand these simple facts because the reverse has been impressed upon them from infancy. They honestly think that they must "take something" for every ailment.—History of Osteopathy.
