AN AWFUL TRAGEDY IN PORTLAND

(Scripps News Association)
Portland, Dec. 28.—To fulfill the vow made in Italy, which promised that Giulia Vismara would never wed another, but rather suffer death, G. Savignoni arrived this morning from Los Angeles after having followed the woman named half way around the world. He found her the wife of Arturo Vignani, living near Water Street with the husband away. He quickly stabbed his former sweetheart with a stiletto, and then threw her babe across a hot stove. The babe is horribly burned, and recovery is doubtful. Savignoni fled down the street and on reaching third and Oak Streets, he shot himself.

LONDON'S STATUE FOR IRVING

(Scripps News Association)
London, Dec. 28.—At a very influential meeting of members of the Theatrical profession in the Lyceum tonight it was decided that the proposed statue of Sir Henry Irving would be erected at Westminster. Officers of subscriptions were made from London's most prominent citizens but the profession decided not to alter their original intention of confining all subscriptions to managers of their own body. Mr. John Hare who is taking an active part in the movement, announced that the subscription list would close in a few days as the amount already received far exceeds that which was expected.
