CHERRY'S NEW LAUNDRY

SPECIAL MEETINGS

Those who attended the meeting last night were deeply impressed with the earnest and heart searching sermon by Dr. Seemann on the theme "Is thy Heart Right". The speaker dwelt upon the importance of the question saying that it was a personal question and one each one must ask for himself. He spoke of the signs of a right heart. It must be a believing, repenting, forgiving, and loving heart.

Dr. Seemann will speak tonight on "Our Conception of God". Come and bring your friends and hear Dr. Seemann who is an able and interesting preacher.

ROAD SUPERVISORS APPOINTED

In the county court proceedings, a portion of which are printed in this issue, can be found the road supervisors for the new term. The county court was especially careful in making the appointments, and the coming year is to see the beginning of a big move for better Union county roads.

SOCIETY

The regular meeting of the High Five club will be Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Foley.

The Kaffe Klatch will meet Friday afternoon of this week with Mrs. M. K. Hall.

MEETING OF NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB

The regular meeting of the Neighborhood Club on Tuesday afternoon was well attended and the program was full of interest.

The study of English Literature was begun and the lesson study was very ably conducted by Mrs. George Palmer.

The study began with the writers of the Anglo-Saxon period.

As in the childhood of any people, poetry is the more natural way of expressing thought or emotion we find that the earliest monuments of English literature are in verse. Foremost among the early English poets are Beowulf, Caedmon and Cynewulf.

Prose composition is a later and more abored development.

The earliest Anglo-Saxon prose of any literary value seems to have been the work of the "Venerable" Bede, a monk who lived from 673 to 735.

He wrote books on grammar, mathematics, natural science, commentaries on the Scriptures, treatises on philosophy, besides many other works, but his most important work is the ecclesiastical or church history of Britain.

In the latter part of the ninth century, Alfred the Great won fame in a literary way and became prominently associated with the development of English speech and English prose.

He translated many works from Latin into the English tongue and made his capital of Winchester the centre of learning and literary activity in England and from his schools went forth many noted teachers.

Near the end of the tenth century, Aelfric, following the example of Alfred, wrote in his native tongue. Among his most interesting works is a Latin Grammar and a Glossary which supplies the equivalents in many Anglo-Saxon words. He also wrote a collection of Homilies which had a wide circulation.

The Magazine study "A Day in Old Oxford" under the leadership of Mrs. Turner Oliver, was very instructive.

An excellent paper on "Early English Drama" by Mrs. J. A. Russell, completed the program of the afternoon and the Club adjourned to meet at the regular time, January twenty-second.

HARRIMAN
MANAGERS
TAKE STAND

(Scripps News Association)

Chicago, Jan 2—The investigation of the Harriman interests, alleged to be the controlling railroads of the states, was resumed today, by the examination of men close to the railroad king, for the purpose of obtaining knowledge of the inside relation of roads. J. C. Stubbs, traffic director of the Harriman lines, and M. C. Markham, traffic manager of the Missouri and Pacific lines, were witnesses. The government attorney sought to show by Stubbs that the Harriman directs the operation of the principal roads of the country from his New York office. Markham is that to know more about the adjustments of rates on the Union Pacific and Gould roads than any other man in the hope of learning something from Markham to force Stubbs make disclosures he was put on the stand.

FINE STEEL RANGES

If you are going to buy a steel range, come and examine our celebrated Majestic range. It is surprising at the small amount of fuel they consume and give perfect satisfaction. I also have a few heaters left. This is the time when you need them

Do not forget about carriage heaters. They will keep your feet warm on a long drive.

ATHLETIC CLASSES POPULAR

A fencing class consisting of over a dozen ladies of this city will have its first lesson next Monday evening. Prof. Luc-Marc Christol, who is organizing a gymnastic class in this city, announces that the ladies' fencing class will meet for instructions three times a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday or Saturday evenings.

The men's class is growing rapidly, ten or twelve having already received from one to three lessons in wrestling, boxing, fencing and club swinging.

Several school boys, too, have been placed in a class and receive instructions after school hours. The scheme of forming gymnastic classes has met with much favor and more are signing for instructions in various phases of gymnastics every day.

SENT TO THE POOR HOUSE

Tom Lynch, who was seriously injured at Hilgard many weeks ago and was taken to the Stover hospital for treatment, was today sent to the Poor House at Union. Mr. Lynch had exhausted all his funds in recovering from his injuries and the County Court saw fit to make a public charge of him until he is capable of sustaining a living.
