REGARDING DISASS OF WOMAN
In all of those maladies from which woman suffers under modern conditions of life, Osteopathic treatment is especially useful and may be fully relied upon. In no field have Osteopaths had wider experience than in this; and much of the early fame of the science was due to its unparalleled success in the treatment of these cases. The necessity of dangerous operations is obviated in very many cases—which is a great deal in itself, aside from the fact that the health of the patient is certain to be better after a natural recovery thru Osteopathy than it can possibly be after mutilation by the knife of the surgeon.
Neither is there any reason for the belief that many hold that the treatment is especially embarrassing. While local treatment is often needful—in which case it would be foolish of the patient to object and culpable in the Osteopath not to administer it—yet in a very large proportion of cases it is not required; and the spinal treatment that is an essential in practically all of these cases is administered thru a garment.
There is every reason for woman, in her sufferings from maladies peculiar to her spinal anatomy, to regard Osteopathy as her best friend and strongest ally.—Right Way.

ALASKAN GLACIERS RECEEDING

(Scripps News Association)
Washington, Jan 11—The Geological Survey investigations reveal the curious fact that the great glaciers in Glacier Bay, Alaska are receding. The work was conducted by Messrs C W and F E Wright, assisted by Mr W R Pumpelly of the Geological Survey Department, and after having spent a season in South-eastern Alaska, they have furnished a very valuable report on their investigations. In the course of their report the members of the Survey state that with few exceptions the glaciers are all receding, the fact being especially noticeable at Muir the best known of Alaskan glaciers. The front of this stream which was confined to a narrow neck, during the last decade has receded, since 1899, a distance of five or six miles in much broader portions in the inlet, so that the present ice front, instead of being two miles across, forms a semicircle nearly seven miles around. This recession has been attributed to the earthquake of 1899, which may have had some effect upon the glacier but the chief cause of the remarkable retreat is undoubtedly due to its recession into the much wider portion of the inlet, thus exposing a far broader ice front to the action of tidal currents. The season's work completed in a general way the geologic mapping of the mainland coast and the islands of Southeastern Alaska. During the survey new mineral belts were discovered and deposits of non-metallics such as gypsum, marble, and granite were studied with a view to ascertaining their economic value.

HOW TO AVOID PNEUMONIA

We have never heard of a single instance of a cold resulting in pneumonia or other lung trouble, when Foley's Honey and Tar has been taken. It not only stops the cough but heals and strengthens the lungs. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered. Dr. C. J. Bishop of Agnew, Mich., writes: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar in three very severe cases of pneumonia with good results in every case."
