M'KENNON GETS OFFICE

J D McKennon is second vice president of the Grocers' Association which was organized at Portland this week. The Grocers of Oregon gathered in the Metropolis and formed an organization similar to such as other states of the Union already have, the object of which is self evident, for in this day an age, organization is the slogan. The La Grande Grocers' Association, which has not been a very active organization of late, thru the instrumentalities of Messrs McKennon and Polack, has been accepted as a member of the state body.

The local grocers will hold a meeting within a few days and elect a president to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of E Romig from the grocery business. The body will in other ways be revived and the organization perfected.

The session at Portland lasted two days and ended with an elaborate banquet. Considerable interest was shown in the election of officers and La Grande is represented by one officer on the slate, which follows:

President, F J Carney of Astoria; first vice-president, W I Ingram, of Pendleton; second vice-president, J D McKennon, of La Grande; third vice-president, Theodore Roth, of Salem; secretary, Chas B Merrick, of Portland; treasurer, Dan Keilhaber, of Portland.

Oscar Lund of the Cove is shaking hands with his La Grande friends today.

REORDER'S COURT

Information was filed before Recorder Snook this morning against Thomas Broadhurst for leading a horse over the sidewalks of the city, by Street Superintendent H W Stoner. The Street Superintendent stated that the defendant had been making a practice of doing this and he proposed to put a stop to it. He also remarked that he had his eye on one or two others that had been violating the ordinance and similar charges would be filed from this time on for all such offenses.

The sidewalks cost too much to be abused in this manner and under our present charter in case of damages the Street Superintendent would be held personally liable in case of injury arising from such causes that would come personally under his observation, provided he let such abuses go unnoticed, and they will not from this time on.
