ATTEMPTED TO DROWN ORIENTALS

Ernest Heater, an employee of the Oregon Lumber company, and an unknown companion who hails from La Grande, yesterday determined that it would be a fine thing to share their joy with the Chinese tenizens of the Chinese district and give them a taste of the same high life, by throwing a couple of them into the icy waters of Powder river.

The men picked by the two adventurers in the restricted district to share their exuberant joy were two Chinese, Sam Kow and Chink Fung who stood at the east end of Auburn avenue watching the ice cakes float up and lodge against the irrigation dam that locks the river at that point.

Heater and his friend managed to seize one of the Chinese, Ching Fung, who did valiant battle, but Sam Kow escaped across the swollen river.

The belligerents failed to land the other Chinaman in the river but contented themselves with rolling him in the mud. —Baker City Herald.

RHEUMATISM AN ACID BLOOD POISON

Rheumatism is an acid blood poison, and the causes that produce it are often silently accumulating in the system for years. Poor digestion, torpid liver, and a general inactive condition of the system, cause the refuse and waste matter, which should be carried off to sour and ferment, which is absorbed into the blood. When the blood is in this acid condition, it deposits the poison in the joints, muscles, nerves and organs. Rheumatism gets possession of the system, and the joints and organs become stiff and disordered. The change in the weather, cold, dampness, etc., always increase the trouble, and the sufferer feels the pain become that which must be relieved. A physician's treatment is often helpful, but it should be remembered that the real trouble is in the blood and cannot be removed by external applications. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism by ridding the blood of the cause. It goes down into the circulation and by invigorating and purifying the blood of the acid poison and sending a stream of fresh, rich blood to all parts, relieves the pain, reduces the inflammation, and permanently cures this painful disease. S. S. S. is the only safe treatment for Rheumatism, because it does not contain a particle of mineral in any form to damage the system. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice desired sent free.
