A JEALOUS MAN IS EXPLAINED AS FOLLOWS

By Dr. Pons the eye specialist. Glancing over the evening Observer I was amused at the article inserted by O. M. Heacock, claiming to know a certain traveling optician who is now in La Grande whom he said, he met in Sa'lem, Oregon last April 11, 1906, who he said failed to pass the state Board and who went before the state Board of Optometry again this year January 19th and was successful in passing, was now in town, and many other things which I hope none failed to read. However as I do not class myself with the ordinary Jeweler and Optician, I feel as tho he was aiming his arrow at me, and as I am the only traveling specialist here, I feel it my duty to answer this insertion, in which I must say I never met Mr. O. M. Heacock the Jeweler and Optician or even knew there was such a man in existence until I came to town this time. I take it as granted that I am the one he refers to, altho no names were mentioned, as I just took the examination and passed with high honors and I doubt as to whether he went before the examining board to get his paper. All the Opticians in the state of Oregon, at the time the law was passed got their certificates without examination whether they were college graduates or not. As to my 200 pound grinding plant in all it weighs 400 pounds, all are invited to call and see it. I have written to Salem Oregon to find out all the names who took the examination and those who got them without taking the Optical examination and will have them in a day or so and then I will publish them so you will all know.

I hope all my patients will read this and any additional ad which may appear in the paper, altho I am doing lots of business and shall try and not do all the work as I believe in getting my share and no more, and do not want to take any ones patients away from them.

Kind wishes and pleasant greetings to all I remain
Yours Kindly,
Dr. C. D. Pons, Optometrist.

HOW TO AVOID PNEUMONIA

We have never heard of a single instance of a cold resulting in pneumonia or other lung trouble when Foley's Honey and Tar has been taken. It not only stops the cough but heals and strengthens the lungs. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered. Dr. C. J. Bishop of Agnew, Mich., writes: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar in three very severe cases of pneumonia with good results in every case."
