It not only stops the cough but heals and strengthens the lungs. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered. Dr. C. J. Bishop of Agnew, Mich., writes: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar in three very severe cases of pneumonia with good results in every case."

BALTIMORE & OHIO'S BIRTHDAY

(Scripps News Association)

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 12:—Simple but interesting exercises were held at the general offices in this city today in celebration of the 80th birthday of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. It was just eighty years ago today that a group of Baltimore's foremost citizens met at the residence of Philip E. Thomas for the purpose of devising a means which would enable commercial intercourse between Baltimore and the Ohio river, and thus overcome the commercial advantages her neighboring cities, Philadelphia and New York, enjoyed by reason of canals.

The Baltimore & Ohio is the oldest steam railroad in America. The first stone of its roadbed was laid in this city on the Fourth of July, 1828, with elaborate ceremony. Over its original length of nine miles mules dragged its cars. Then Peter Cooper, a manufacturer of New York, brought to Baltimore a steam engine—a curious concern, something like a boiler with a stovepipe in it. And Cooper's engine broke down and the horse express beat it. Then came the grasshopper engines—the embryonic germs of the tremendous locomotives of today. So, historically, the Baltimore & Ohio is extremely interesting.

The road grew. It was the first to cross the Alleghany Mountains and tap the great West.

Before the line had been long in operation the motive power was changed from horses to a sail car, built by President Thomas's brother, Evan Thomas.

Then came the trial of Peter Cooper's locomotive, known as the "Tom Thumb" which did not prove as successful as its builder had anticipated. The first trial trip of the engine was made August 26 1831, from Baltimore to Ellicott's Mills
