A few more days like this and the plows will be turning the soil. The farmers are ready.

The state jute mill is not looked upon with favor by the legislature and the bill is not expected to receive favorable consideration.

The city election gives promise of being an entertaining one. Only a few more days in which to bring out your petitions. If you are going to be in the race, better prepare for the start.

With plenty of moisture and an abundance of sunshine combined with the best soil in the state, there should be no question regarding the coming harvest. There never is any question in the Grande Ronde valley.

The "Atlantic Georgian" has discovered that Senator-elect Wm. Alden Smith used to play the drum in a village band. He ought to prove quite an addition to the now famous Tilman Minstrels.— Eugene Register.

THOMAS CONDON

In the death of Professor Thomas Condon the state of Oregon suffers a distinct loss. His was a life and character that has left an indelible impression upon the state that time can never efface. As an educator he has ranked with the foremost men of his time, as a citizen his life was a model after which young men were wont to fashion their own lives and were always given a higher conception of what constitutes ideals of citizenship by coming in contact with him. As a scientist, he was unexcelled by any man in the West and stood on a level with the geologists of his day. He understood the geological formation of Oregon as thoroughly as if he had made earth formation himself and his works, both written and otherwise, will stand as a lasting monument to his genius.

The entire state of Oregon will feel keenly the death of this great and good man.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

Charles E. Hughes, Governor of New York; Edward C. Stokes, Governor of New Jersey, and James H. Higgins, Governor of Rhode Island, are graduates of Brown University.

John P. St. John, who was the first Prohibition governor of Kansas, is now living at Brownsville, Texas, where he has made a fortune during the past few years in land speculation.

Percival W. Clement, the twice-defeat-candidate for Governor of Vermont, has been sued by Senator Redfield Proctor on the ground that he has converted to his own use for political gain certain property belonging to the Rutland Herald, in which paper both men are interested as stockholders.

Senator Taliaferro of Florida and Senator Simmons of North Carolina look enough alike to be twin brothers. They are about the same size and build, each has a heavy crop of dark hair, which is kept closely trimmed, and their short stubby mustaches are much alike. Both have dark eyes, and there is probably not two pounds difference in their respective weights.

Frank O. Briggs, who succeeds John F. Dryden as United States Senator from New Jersey, is a poor man. For thirty years past he has been a salaried employee of the Trenton firm that built the Brooklyn Bridge. Mr. Briggs had served one term as mayor of Trenton when he was appointed state treasurer by Governor Voorhees. Subsequently he was re-elected to the office. In 1904 he was made chairman of the Republican state committee and managed the the campaign which resulted in the election of Governor Stokes.

ELECTIONS IN RUSSIA

Millions of peasants who voted in the Russian elections did so under the shadow of the scaffolds of a hundred military courts, with no humane right that any officer was bound to respect. Why did the Government order elections? Because there is a power in Russia above the Czar. "The foreign money-lenders are now Russia's real parliament," a famous Russian publicist said recently. A higher power than the Czar has ordered the elections. The financiers demand those qualities from governments that they demand from currency—permanence and stability. Unfortunately for Nicholas, the modern capitalist can picture stability in government without some kind of a reference to what the nation wants. So a second Duma there had to be.
