VETERANS WILL MARCH ON FRIDAY

The local members of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Women Relief Corps will take active part in the George Washington exercises next Friday. At one o'clock these two bodies will meet at the I. O. O. F. hall and march as a body to the school house where it will assist in the exercises.

The Literary society of the high school has planned an elaborate program which will be delivered on the same day.

HIGH HAY FOR SHEEP

James Wright is feeding 8000 head of sheep in the Horse Heaven country on straw hay that costs $15 per ton and he figures he will come out all right providing the winter does not last too long.

There is now more snow in the Horse Heaven country than ever seen, there before. It ought to make good wheat. The land will be thoroughly soaked when the snow melts and the crop ought to be the best ever grown in that district. Yakima sheep men are also feeding high priced hay to keep their flocks from starving.—Milton Eagle.

DOUKHOBERS RESIST TAXES

(Scripps News Association)
Yorkton, Feb. 19.—The authorities issued 192 warrants for Doukhobers who fought against the payment of a per capita tax. The women fought with the men and retook the attached cattle from the collectors. The mounted police have been called to preserve order.

The Best Edition He Ever Saw

The advertisement and expos of the resources of this valley as set forth in the La Grande Evening OBSERVER'S special edition last fall, has a far more reaching effect that is generally credited to it. From Statesbury Missouri a man named A F Wilson writes the following which is self-explanatory:

Statesbury, Mo., Feb. 15, 1907.
The OBSERVER, La Grande, Oregon, Gentlemen:
Inclosed 25 cents—send us for same as many of the Industrial Copies dated September 17, 1906—in parts one and two—of the La Grande Evening OBSERVER—as possible for the stated amount as we are interested in the betterment of that country we wish to use these papers as advertising, by the way we consider it one of the best advertising sheets we have ever seen.
Yours very truly,
A. F. WILSON.

Jerome Takes Witness

Evelyn did not hold so well under the fire of the questions today as she did formerly. Her voice was not so strong. She related the story of the pie dinner at Stregis where herself, Thaw and a third man were present. The matter caused a small scandal at the time, but was suppressed from the newspapers. In reply to a question if Harry Thaw ever spoke of the dinner party in connection with White, who it is supposed the third man was, Evelyn replied:

"Harry referred to the subject frequently. He invariably said to me that the only place for White, was the penitentiary. He informed me that he knew of girls of good families who had suffered at the hands of White. The worst of all was when he tired of them, he cast them off. They would then drift lower and lower until they were women of the street. When he talked to me of White, he always cried, so I tried to keep his mind off the subject."

Attorney Delmas then read a paper prepared by Thaw and shown to Evelyn in March 1906, which he had planned to send to the Anthony Comstock society, which has for its purpose, the suppression of the crime.

The paper as read set forth illicit and obscene matter that had been found in White's social studio. It referred also to a place that had been removed to No. 22 West 4th Street, which was kept for the purpose of debauching young American girls by rich criminals.

Then came the story of the "Pie-girl" by which the defense expects to show some of the debased mental condition and cold bloodedness of White.

WHAT PIE-GIRL MEANT

Evelyn related the incident of the pie-girl supper and what it meant. She said "I was in a theatre one night, dressing, when White came to me and told in a proud manner of the 'best staunt he ever did.' He continued to tell me that this particular girl was a pretty young thing, being only fifteen. White had a monster pie made, and placed within the pie the girl and some live fowls.

At the right time the pie was brot out. The cover was broken and out flew the fowls, flapping their wings. Then the girl stood up, dressed in a piece of gauze. White admitted to me that he nearly got into trouble over it but managed to suppress the newspapers. I told him that he had ruined the young girl. He only laughed at me."

The witness then whispered the names of other girls who had been ruined by White but Jerome was the only one who heard who they were.

Treating Wrong Disease.

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent, or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages this practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse, by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system, and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For over-worked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

BLOOD POISON CURE YOURSELF AT HOME

Most persons who are afflicted with Contagious Blood Poison hesitate to go to a physician for several reasons. In the first place the expense is heavy, and they know that the inevitable treatment will be mercury and potash, strong minerals that act with disastrous effects on the delicate parts of the system, and which do not, after all, really cure the disease. What they want is a safe, reliable treatment that can be taken at home and a perfect cure made of this loathsome disorder without unnecessary exposure or expense. Such a remedy is S. S. S.—it is the only medicine that goes down to the very bottom of the trouble and drives out the last trace of the poison so that there are never any signs of its return. It does not contain a particle of mineral in any form, and after removing the disease from the circulation builds up every part of the system by its fine vegetable tonic properties. S. S. S. attacks the trouble at its head and not only permanently cures the disease for the one afflicted, but so purifies the blood that future offspring is insured against infection. S. S. S. may be taken in the privacy of your home and a perfect cure made of this hateful and loathsome trouble. For the assistance of those who are curing themselves with S. S. S. we have prepared a special book on Contagious Blood Poison which contains instructions of great value to all blood poison sufferers. We will be glad to send you a copy of this book free, and if additional instructions or advice are desired, our physicians will furnish it without charge.
