ANIMAL EYES

Among the most difficult things which taxidermists have to do are the painting and preparation of glass eyes for the mammals, birds and reptiles which they are mounting.

These eyes are made of glass, hollow within and from the rear so that the inner surface may be painted any color desired.

As no two animals' eyes are alike, and as the colors are often complicated and unusual, it requires a great deal of skill study and practice, before one is competent to understand the work.—The Boys World.

A report was circulated this morning that the Shanks lived in the house where Densmore Parish had the small pox over a year ago, but proved to be unfounded.—The Dalles Chronicle.
