FRIEND TO FRIEND.

The personal recommendations of people who have been cured of coughs and colds by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have done more than all else to make it a staple article of trade and commerce over a large part of the civilized world.

AN INSTANCE.

Lacy Suddreth, of Lenoir, N. C., had been troubled with a very bad cough for over a year. She says: "A friend bought a bottle of CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY, brought it to me and insisted that I should take it. I did so and to my surprise it helped me. Four bottles of it cured me of my cough."

STORY OF OREGON FRUIT TOLD TO THE WIDE WORLD

Portland, Ore., Jan. 27.—(Special correspondence.)—Working in connection with several commercial bodies over the state, and aided by individual fruitgrowers, the Portland Commercial club has issued a fruit bulletin composed of four pages of the New Year's Oregonian. Each paper sent out bears a paragraph, conspicuously stamped in two places, telling the reader that he can buy his ticket on the road most convenient to him at a remarkable low colonist rate, between March 1 and April 30. The $30 rate from the great middle west is made the striking feature of the stamp. Of course, mention is also made of rates from other sections. The bulletins are prepared in advance and are being distributed by the use of agents employed by the club, localizing the rate information to the particular line.

LAURA STILES, N. Y. enter Livestock show at E SMITH, Secretary.

There was a tremendous amount of the exhibitors' information to be presented at the livestock show in Portland this coming fall. The Portland Country Club & Livestock association have promised the Hunt club that accommodations will be ready for them in June, and an army of men and horses are at work at the present time to make this pledge good.

The Pacific Coast Ad Men's association will hold their next annual convention in Portland during the Rose festival.

The Oregon Development league is exceedingly prosperous. The past two weeks have added three members to the organization—the Stayton Commercial club, W. L. Freres, president; R. A. Elwood, secretary; the Commercial club of Mosier valley, with Dr. David Robinson, secretary; the Seilo Commercial club, T. J. Munckers, president, and A. G. Prill, secretary.

The Hood River Commercial club will hold its third annual banquet Friday evening, January 31. Delegates will be present from Portland, The Dalles and other cities throughout the state.

Newberg will have a housewarming under the auspices of the Newberg board of trade, on February 1, celebrating the opening of their fine new Imperial hotel.

The executive committee of the Portland Commercial club is appealing for additional funds to advertise the resources of Oregon, and at no time during the active work of that committee have responses been so generous. New subscriptions are coming in, former contributors are either doubling or materially increasing their subscriptions, and every cent of it is devoted to advertising the state and not the city.

Complete plans have been decided upon for the Oregon building at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, and up to date it is the most attractive state building yet shown in America upon the grounds of a great fair.

CIRCULATING LIBRARY.

Newlin Drug Company Fills a Long Felt Want.

Realizing that in a city the size of La Grande there are a number of people who enjoy reading the latest and best books, but do not feel that they can afford to buy the books outright, but who are willing and able to pay a small rental fee, the Newlin Drug company has installed a circulating library to meet this demand. This library contains nearly 1000 volumes, consisting of all the talked about, copyrighted books, the standard works of fiction, the standard children's books and also a large collection of paper-backed novels. The plan adopted by the Newlin Drug company to place this splendid library in the hands of the reading public is simple as well as inexpensive. There will be no red tape. The prospective member simply deposits $1.00 for which he receives his first book. The member is allowed to select any book in the library. This book the member will be allowed to keep in his possession for one week. At the expiration of the week, or sooner, the member may return the book and by the payment of an additional 25 cents secure another book and by the payment of an additional 25 cents secure another book. Thus for 25 cents the member may have the pleasure of reading a $1.50 book. If the books are kept longer than the week the small charge of five cents per day is made for each additional day. Should the member not wish to take a book a week all that is necessary is to return the book taken out and a membership card will be issued, which will entitle the member to a book at any time upon payment only of the 25-cent rental fee. With the library is a large number of paper-backed novels, which are allowed to be taken out upon an initial charge of but five cents. Readers are invited to call at the store and examine the library, and the Newlin Drug company feels sure that the selections will be found in every way worthy of the consideration of the reading public.

Discuss Nine-Hour Law.

Washington, Jan. 27.—A committee of the operating heads of some of the leading railroads of the country had a conference with President Roosevelt today, when several important matters relating to railway management and control were touched upon.

One of the most important of these was the provision of the La Follette law which relates to a nine-hour day for railroad telegraphers, and which becomes effective March 1. The members of the committee attempted to convince the president that the clause is impracticable. There is little disposition among the railroad men to oppose the hours prescribed by law for trainmen, but they cannot see their way clear to adjusting conditions for the universal observance of the nine-hour law for telegraph operators.

The question of legalizing pooling agreements was discussed informally. In this matter the president has indicated his position as favorable to such an agreement under proper supervision by the interstate commerce commission.

Among the railroads represented at the conference were the Pennsylvania, New York Central, St. Louis and San Francisco, Southern, Burlington, Illinois Central and Northwestern.
