CONVENTION AT BOISE CITY

Boise won over Twin Falls on the fifth ballot for the nominating convention of the republican party at the state central committee meeting this afternoon and Wallace won the delegates' convention from Coeur d'Alene, says the Boise News of Monday.

The first convention will be held at Wallace on May 12 to select six delegates to attend the Chicago convention and the second convention will meet in Boise, September 1 to nominate candidates for state officers.

Wallace won easily over Coeur d'Alene. The fight for the second convention was a harder fought one, five ballots being required when Boise won by a vote of 13 to 11 over Twin Falls. The deciding ballot against Twin Falls was cast by C. J. Munson of Latah county, special representative of Congressman French.

The attendance at the committee meeting was large, a great number of politicians and interested persons being present, aside from the members of the committee. The meeting was called to order just before 11 o'clock by Chairman J. H. Brady, Secretary Dietrich also being present. Chairman Brady submitted his report of the financial transactions of the last campaign which were found satisfactory to the committee and were promptly approved.

A general discussion then ensued relative to the place for holding the two conventions. It was finally agreed that the first convention should meet at some point in the northern part of the state on May 12 and the second convention should be held in the southern part of the state on September 1. Adjournment was then taken until 1:30.

Members of the press were not admitted at the forenoon session, but at the afternoon session, they were admitted during the balloting on the places for holding the conventions.

RELIGION: EDUCATION PADEREWSKI PASSES HERE

Washington, Feb. 11.—"The Relation of Moral and Religious Education to National Life" is the general theme of the first annual convention of the Religious Education society, which was formally opened this morning with a meeting of the members of the council. Hundreds of distinguished college presidents, professors, teachers, clergymen and laymen are here for the convention, and will be given a reception in the East room of the White House tomorrow afternoon, when President Roosevelt will deliver an address on the general subject of the meeting in its relation to patriotism and piety.

The executive board and the board of directors of the association will hold sessions late this afternoon. The first general session of the convention will be held this evening in Continental hall of the Daughters of the American Republic, and will be presided over by Henry Churchill King of Oberlin college. Commissioner H. B. F. McFarland of the District of Columbia, and Elmer E. Brown, United States commissioner of education, will welcome the delegates. The special theme of the session will be "How Can the Educational Agencies be Made More Effective in the Moral Life of the Nation?"

There are 87 speakers on the programs of the 33 meetings, which will be held during the three days of the convention.

Cut Price on Grain Bags.
A Walla Walla dispatch says: That the state board of control will make a material reduction on the price of grain sacks this year is probable in view of the decreased cost of manufacture at the penitentiary. Otherwise, should the board continue the quotation of 9 cents asked last year, the state bags would have to meet competition from private dealers, whose bid of 7 3/8 cents, made recently to the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative association, is 1 5/8 cents lower than that of the board. "The cost of jute this year has been nearly $8 a bale less than it was last year," said Warden Charles Reed. "The Wizard Edison Begins 62d Year.

Orange, N. J., Feb. 11.—Thomas A. Edison, the wizard of the age of electricity, today observed his 61st birthday. Although he has achieved financial independence through his hundreds of inventions, the aged wizard is still busily engaged on many projects which will be of the greatest benefit to humanity. Of late he has spent a considerable portion of his time in investigating the possibilities latent in concrete as a house-building material, and has perfected machinery whereby such houses may be molded quickly and in an economical manner. Several other ideas are revolving in the fertile brain of the wizard and if his life is spared for another decade it is likely that he will again startle the world with some revolutionary product of his genius.

Mr. Edison was born at Milan, O., February 11, 1847. He began his business career at the age of 12 as a newsboy. When still a youth he became a telegrapher and it was while engaged in this occupation that he became interested in the marvels of electricity and commenced the career as an inventor which has made his name famous throughout the world.

The wizard attributes his long life and the preservation of the activity of his mental processes to the regularity of his habits. He retires at midnight

Teachers' Examination.

Tomorrow the county teachers' examination takes place in Union, and County Superintendent E. E. Bragg is arranging to be present. It is expected that there will not exceed 25 applicants. If this proves to be the case, it will be the smallest number to be examined for quite a while.

A New Record.

Register E. W. Davis states that for the first time under his administration there will be fewer final proofs made during the next two weeks than during any similar period. In fact, there are just three proofs set. Ordinarily there are from one to three set for each day in the year.

Another Candidate.

The petition of Jacob Biever for city marshal is being circulated today. The time to get on the ballot is drawing to an end. After February 22 no names can be placed on the official ballot.

Change in Meeting Night.

The Gobblers will meet next Saturday night instead of Friday.
