BIG WAGES FOR HENEY

F. J. Heney has received a total of $50,000 from the government since he first accepted employment as land fraud prosecutor in Oregon in 1903, says a Washington dispatch. All this has been paid excepting $8,000 which item pends in the urgency deficiency bill, now in conference between senate and house, and as no protest has been filed, it is expected it will go through.

Heney began his labors November 7, 1903, when appointed special assistant attorney general to assist John H. Hall, district attorney for Oregon. He was to prosecute the case against McKinley, Puter, Ware, et al. His compensation was to be determined by the attorney general on completion of his services.

February 23, 1904, he was appointed special assistant attorney general to prosecute the Hyde-Diamond-Benson land fraud case, involving Oregon and California irregularities, his compensation again being left to the attorney general.

October 18, 1904, he was again appointed special assistant attorney general to assist District Attorney Hall. On December 16, 1904, he resigned that position to accept an appointment as assistant district attorney for Oregon at $1500 per year.

During 1904 he was paid $5000 on account of services under the special appointments.

January 9, 1905, he resigned, was appointed district attorney at $4500 a year; this resigned December 1, 1905. The day following he was appointed special assistant attorney general again for the Hyde Benson case. During 1905 Mr. Heney was paid $7,500; on March 10, $5000; on August 10 on account of services previously rendered under special appointments. June 13, 1906, was appointed special assistant to the attorney general for land cases in Oregon not covered by existing appointments, compensation determinable by the attorney general.

During that year he received two payments of $5000, August 9, and $5,000 December 26. An $8000 item in the urgency deficiency bill is for compensation fixed, but not yet paid under the attorney general's power conferred to fix his compensation.

Announcement.

Jack Childs explains his position: I wish to say to my friends and republican voters that I will be a candidate for the nomination for assessor of Union county, on the republican ticket, at the coming primary election.

I will give a few reasons for thinking I am qualified for the office. I have dealt largely in real estate in the county, having bought and sold timber, grazing and farm land, besides handling city property, and have also had a varied experience in city improvements. Having been in several kinds of business should qualify me as a pretty good judge of the value of merchandise, and if elected I should be able to make a fair and
