Money Supports the Home

and it needs a steady influx of it to maintain the household and keep it going. To be sure of that steady flow of money, it is the best plan to bank the savings so that you will know where to reach them in time of need. For "rainy days" come to the thirteenth of us at times, and it is well for us if they find us prepared. Bank your surplus cash with us now, and you will have the pleasure of knowing that it is not only secure, but earning good interest.

PLAN TRIP TO ALBERTA

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 21.—Hon. M. McKenzie of MasLeod, a member of the provincial government of Alberta, is in Spokane to arrange with the chamber of commerce to run an inland empire excursion to the various cities and towns in that province during the grain harvesting season next summer, after which the commercial bodies of Alberta purpose visiting Spokane and points in the territory tributary to it, in which the value of mining, lumber, grain, fruit and livestock products, exclusive of manufactures and imports, aggregated $132,500,000 in 1907, or $267 per capita of a population of 500,000.

"My purpose in presenting this project at this time is to bring into closer affiliation and association the business men and producers of northwestern Canada and the inland empire. Our interests are mutual and we have much in common; in fact, I may say that the real development of the boundary mining district was made by Spokane capital and enterprise. There are several men in Spokane who have become millionaires as the result of their investments in properties along the southern edge of western Canada, and a number of our people have amassed fortunes in your timber, fruit and agricultural belts."

Mr. McKenzie will immediately make arrangements with the various commercial organizations in the province of Alberta to join in a formal invitation to the Spokane organization to visit them some time the coming summer.

F. E. Goodall, president, and L. G. Monroe, secretary of the chamber of commerce, who are now in southern California with a party of 225 merchants and professional men, will take up the matter on their return. Mr. Monroe, who is also secretary of the Washington and Spokane County Horticultural societies, will invite the people of the province of Alberta to attend the interstate apple show under the auspices of the Spokane county society the last week in January, 1909, which gives promise of being the most pretentious of its kind ever attempted on this continent.

George B. Drescher, assistant secretary of the chamber of commerce, announces that purses aggregating $10,000 will be hung up in the competitions among apple growers in Washington, Idaho, Montana, Oregon and British Columbia, in addition to which will be blue ribbons and trophies for exhibits from outside the state. Expert horticulturists in the employ of the government and the Washington state college, will visit the orchards in June to enlist the co-operation of growers. The purpose is to interest orchardists, not only in the northwest, but throughout the country, to grow better and cleaner fruit, for which the demand and prices were never better than they are today.

NOTICE OF FINAL ACCOUNT.
