Money Supports the Home

and it needs a steady influx of it to maintain the household and keep it going. To be sure of that steady flow of money, it is the best plan to bank the savings so that you will know where to reach them in time of need. For "rainy days" come to the thirteenth of us at times, and it is well for us if they find us prepared. Bank your surplus cash with us now, and you will have the pleasure of knowing that it is not only secure, but earning good interest.

STRINGING BIG CABLES

Large cables for the Home Independent Telephone company are being strung this week. The cables will be used in alleys principally, and wherever a heavy network of wire cannot be run through the underground conduits.

Nearly 1500 feet of this cable has been strung on the North Side and today the crew has been equipping the poles in the alleys between Adams and Washington avenues with the condensed and compact bunches of telephone wires.

The variety used in the alleys mentioned is the 75 and 50 pair in each cable, the latter running east from the junction on Elm street and the former going west up the alley.

The cables are made of lead and contain within them a certain number of pairs of telephone wires.

WILL DEFEND STOESSEL.

Russians in Oregon and the Northwest Appeal for Financial Aid.

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 26.—(Special.)—Representative business and professional men in various parts of the Inland Empire of the Pacific Northwest, formerly residents of Russia, are making canvasses for signatures in eastern Washington, northern Idaho, western Montana and northeastern Oregon for presentation to the trustees of the Spokane chamber of commerce urging that organization to use its good offices in an effort toward the revocation by the czar of the sentence imposed by the government upon General Stoessel as punishment for the surrender of Port Arthur during the Russo-Japanese war. The petition probably will be presented to the board at a meeting early in March, when it is proposed to begin a campaign to enlist the influence of every commercial club and business men's organization in the United States and Canada. George B. Drescher, acting secretary of the Spokane chamber of commerce, says that several of the members of the deputation, which called upon him a few days ago, are personally acquainted with General Stoessel, and will raise a defense fund if it is necessary.

North Bank Men at Seaside.

Though the rumor has often been denied that the Hill railway interests have any intention of building a line from Seaside down the coast to Tillamook, or even farther, it continues to rise at intervals and will not receive its quietus, relates a Portland paper.

Color is lent the story at this time by the presence in Seaside of a party of North Bank officials, headed by President Francis B. Clarke, of the Spokane, Portland & Seattle road. Among those in the party are H. M. Adams, general freight and passenger agent; F. S. Forrest, general superintendent, and R. H. Jenkins, local passenger agent. The members of this party of North Bank officials have been at Seaside, at least in that vicinity, for several days.

What could take these officials to Seaside and hold them there for so long a time unless the construction of such a line is under consideration puzzles those who keep their eyes on the railway map. Other circumstances are said to indicate that the theory assigned is tenable.

It is now regarded as very probable all over Wallowa county that Colonel Eberhard will have no opposition for the nomination for representative in this county, and since that office is always conceded to Wallowa by Union, the popular young attorney seems to have almost a "cinch" on the nomination.—Joseph Herald.
