BUSINESS IS BRISK

Freight traffic has recuperated to such an extent that at least three freight trains are sent east this week, each day, where formerly there was seldom more than two. At 9:30 this morning the second eastbound freight pulled out of the yards for the day. Before night at least two more will have gone.

This reflects the real "pick-up" in O. R. & N. business. Trainmen make regular trips, where formerly they had much time to waste between runs. Naturally, all employes are as related over the bright prospects for big pay checks, as the company is over the promising revenues.

The usual string of idling engines in the round house had dwindled down to a few scattering freight engines. The passenger equipment is taxed, and has been the past week.

STRIKE AT WALLA WALLA.

Newspaper Unable to Publish the Regular Daily Editions.

Union printers employed in the Washington Printing & Book Manufacturing company, the concern printing the Union and Statesman, went on strike last night and as a result both the Union and Statesman are tied up, relates the Walla Walla Bulletin. Alleged violations of the local and international Typographical laws are given as the cause for the strike order, which was issued following a meeting of the local typographical union yesterday afternoon.

One of the principal bones of contention, it is claimed, is the action of the company, of which P. C. Holland is manager, in consolidating the three mechanical departments under one head, the printers contending that this is not allowed under their laws.

Following the meeting of the union yesterday, L. F. Clarke, president of the union, was authorized to present the matter to P. C. Holland. No agreement could be reached and the men were ordered out. Notification of the action was immediately sent to President Lynch of the International union, but no further word has been received from him and the men will remain out until he decides the matter through a representative who is on his way here.

The Union was unable to issue this morning and the Statesman will not appear this evening. It is not known how long the men will be out.

Will Vote on County Seat.

The petitions containing 985 signatures for a vote on the removal of the county seat were filed with the county clerk last Saturday. On Friday the county court went over the list of signers, and although quite a number of names were stricken off—some being duplicates; others were not registered at the last election—there still remained enough signatures to bring the question to a vote. On Wednesday the county court examined the petition for a "wet" county, and found the requisite number of legal signatures.—Joseph Herald.
