

BIG SALARY LURES MANY

The office of railroad commissioner, with its salary of $4000 per year, has attracted a number of candidates in the eastern Oregon or Second congressional district, there being now eight candidates for office in the field, says the East Oregonian.

Clyde B. Aitchison, who is now a member of the commission from this district, is a candidate for re-election, but is being vigorously opposed by the railroads and certain interests in Portland. W. H. Hurlburt, formerly with the passenger department of the O. R. & N., is understood to be the railroad candidate, as a number of railroad officials have been heard to boost him for the place.

The republican candidates for the place are C. B. Aitchison, W. H. Hurlburt, C. C. Loueks, Joseph Gaston, Howard Whiting and A. N. Hamilton. The democratic candidates are J. N. Teal and Oglesby Young.

C. C. Loueks, formerly a Southern Pacific conductor, is the railroad employee candidate and is making a vigorous and efficient campaign. Owing to his long railroad experience he is looked upon as a logical man for the place.

Friends of Mr. Aitchison are warmly urging his candidacy, owing to the fact that he is now in office and has made an excellent showing. Mr. Aitchison has been active in collecting rate statistics and in ferreting out freight tariff mysteries and has been a most valuable man on the commission. A. N. Hamilton, who has been in the liquor business in Portland for a number of years, was a former sheriff of Union county and a member of Oregon's first railroad commission, appointed about 24 years ago.

Garage for Pendleton.
Pendleton is shortly to have a regularly equipped garage and it will be located on Johnson street, with Walter McCormach as proprietor. For the same, it is understood, a brick or concrete building 100 feet by 90 in dimensions, will be constructed.

For the price of $5000 Mr. McCormach has purchased lots 9 and 10 in block 8, the block in which the La Dow building is situated. Lots 9 and 10 are on Johnson street and directly in the rear of the Umatilla meat market. The lots are now occupied by two old cottages.

The property formerly belonged to the Pacific Realty company, of which W. F. Matlock and T. C. Taylor are principal stockholders, and the deed for the lots was filed with the county recorder yesterday.—Pendleton East Oregonian.
