EBERHARD, THE FAVORITE.

(Joseph Herald.)

About the first of February, Attorney C. R. Eberhard of Joseph, announces his candidacy for joint representative, with the approval and support of practically all of the leading republicans of Joseph and vicinity. A short time ago, another Joseph candidate entered the field, making his announcement at another town, and these two are the only ones before the republican voters of the district.

Since the district will look to Joseph for the candidate, the Herald proposes to state in an editorial manner where Joseph stands as between these candidates, and why the Joseph favorite should be nominated.

The Herald asserts that Mr. Eberhard is the favorite here in Joseph and vicinity, where both candidates live and are known, by something like two to one. It is also a fact that not one prominent republican in this vicinity is openly opposing Eberhard.

Besides these facts, there are other reasons why he is entitled to the nomination:

1. His especial fitness for the position, by reason of his legislative experience and his large acquaintance over the state.
2. His knowledge of the law, coupled with the fact that he is a deep student of legal and public affairs.
3. His frankness with the people and his expressed willingness to trust them.
4. His enviable record as a public official and the confidence the people have in him; and also his reputation for integrity and his spotless personal character.

Mr. Eberhard resided over three years at Salem, took the university law course there, and at the last legislature was chief clerk to the important committee of judiciary of the house. He is acknowledged by all to be among the leading attorneys of Wallowa county, having three cases on the civil docket at the last term, while his opponent had none. Locally, he has been entrusted with every position he would accept, being school clerk, secretary of the Commercial club, justice, and city recorder, all of which, except the latter, came to him without any effort on his part and in a way he could not decline them. He was last year elected city recorder on the law and order ticket, receiving 90 votes out of 150, while his opponent, who was then, as he is now, deputy prosecuting attorney, received 59 for councilman on the "open town" ticket.

Announcement of his candidacy was made by Mr. Eberhard over a month before that of his opponent. He was among the first in the state to subscribe to statement No. 1, and he went farther and pledged himself to the people to oppose, if elected, useless appropriations, more than two normal schools and secret raises of salaries of officials. His opponent's petitions merely commit him to statement No. 1.

Finally, if there is any one thing that Colon R. Eberhard has a reputation for in Joseph and Wallowa county, it is that of being a lawyer who is "straight." To go into details on this line would but be to cheapen a reputation now absolutely unassailable.

In the large vote of Union county lies the only hope of defeating Eberhard. We do not think Union county is going to go contrary to the wishes of citizens in the candidate's own home, but will be guided by them, and especially so, when Union county demands and receives the judge, prosecuting attorney and senator.

FIVE-STORY BUILDING.

How a Dry Town Retards Building in Eugene.

The building of the handsome five-story structure at the corner of Ninth and Oak street by the local lodge of Odd Fellows, means much to Eugene. It will give Eugene the finest building outside of Portland in the state; but there is a sequel to it that is almost as good. By an agreement with the Odd Fellows, the owners of all the buildings in the same block, as far as the alley separating the Hullin building from Risdon block, will extend their buildings clear through to Park street, a full depth of 114 feet. When Mr. Davies was here, he agreed to do so. Mr. Rhodes, who owns the building in which the Eugene Racket store is located, will do so, and in fact all of them. This will give a most beautiful frontage on Park street and will necessitate its being paved in the near future. The owners of the property are wise in making this decision now, as almost every one of the tenants are crowded for room and will be willing to pay more rent to get it. Moreover, the price of building material is now as low as it will be for some time, and labor also is very reasonable and when the work is all done at the same time it will cost much less. Let the good work go on. —Eugene Register.
