Just one more day until the primaries. So far the campaign has been conducted along clean and gentlemanly lines. The contest will continue to the end, and let each candidate feel that he has conducted his campaign in that case he is the victor in the primaries that he is entitled and will receive the support of his opponents and their friends at the general election. Candidates should remember that the primary election is only the first step. Without doubt so far, this has been the cleanest campaign in the history of the county.

The gentle shower that began falling about 11 o'clock this forenoon is being hailed with delight. Nothing in Grande Ronde valley is suffering, but it is such frequent showers as this that make our bumper crops. Think of it, how the beet growers will smile just as the big end of the crop is in.

If any one suggests to you that it might be a first-class idea to organize a Commercial club in this city, join right in and put it on the back. The time is ripe. Talk with the business men and learn how they feel on the matter.

If the weather conditions are favorable there will be an immense crowd in the city Saturday. Market and Horse Show day.

The candidates are all busy today plugging up the holes in their political fences for the battle that takes place Friday.

RULES REGARDING POSTCARDS.

Regulations That Postcard Covers Should Follow Closely.

The La Grande postoffice department is constantly meeting with trouble from those who send postal cards. The following advice should be observed:

Postal cards must bear at the head of the front the title "Postal Card" or its equivalent. They must be made of cardboard or thick paper, and "must not be enclosed in an envelope." Private postal cards need not bear that title. Postage stamps should be placed in the upper right hand corner of the address side. The right hand half of the address side is reserved for the address, postmarks, etc.; the left-hand half may be used to contain a message or a picture on very thin paper, may be pasted there; also a label not exceeding two inches by three-quarters of an inch in size may be pasted there. On the back of the card a picture on very thin paper may be pasted. With the exception of postage stamps, the labels and the pictures on very thin paper mentioned above, nothing may be attached to a postal card.

Postal cards (so-called), consisting of wood, leather or any material other than paper or cardboard, are subject to treatment as letters.

Minnesota in Taft Column.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 15.—Minnesota's republican state convention will meet in Minneapolis tomorrow to select delegates at large to the Chicago convention. It is considered certain that the convention will endorse the administration of President Roosevelt and instruct the delegates at large to support the presidential candidacy of Secretary Taft. Many delegates to tomorrow's meeting arrived in the city today, and all are apparently unanimous in their zeal for Taft. The convention to choose a state ticket will be held on July 1 at St. Paul.
