OUTSIDE COMMENT.
What St. Paul Paper Says of One Referendum's Effect on Oregon.
 One of the beauties of the referendum as demonstrated in the experience of Oregon is the embarrassment into which that device has enabled a few narrow-minded cranks to plunge the university of that state, says the St. Paul Pioneer Press of February 10. That institution has apparently never been treated as it ought to be treated. It has been getting only about $47,600 a year, and with this ridiculous sum it is undertaking to care for about 400 students, practically all from families of moderate means; for those who can afford it, rather send their sons and daughters to an institution so handicapped by stinginess and shortsightedness, naturally send them to well-equipped universities and colleges in other states. The result is that Oregon sends to institutions beyond its borders in proportion to its population more of its young people than does any other state in the union. That it retains only those who cannot afford to go elsewhere is indicated by the fact that 60 per cent of the boy students of its university and many of the young women are working their way through supporting themselves in order to get the education they want. The only way the university can make both ends meet is by doing without really necessary equipment and by paying its faculty less than any other state pays—any every one knows that professional salaries are at best disgracefully low.

In other words Oregon is denying to the very class that has most pluck and ambition, the very class that as the history of this country demonstrates has been of most value to it, an obsequy its greatest glory, a fair chance as compared with that offered the same class in most other states. It has pretended to maintain a university and has thereby suggested to these young men and young women that they could get there the higher education which they longed for. But it has only placed at their disposal the meager instructions and equipment which less than $50,000 a year affords. It robs them, under false pretenses, of a certain part of the years they spend there by giving them short measure.

In the United States Court for the District of Oregon.

In the matter of O. M. Heacock, bankrupt.

To the Creditors of Said Bankrupt:

You are hereby notified that O. M. Heacock, bankrupt, of La Grande, Ore., filed his petition in the district court of the United States for the district of Oregon on the 20th day of April, 1908, praying for a final discharge from all debts made provable against him under the laws of bankruptcy, and

It is ordered by said court that a hearing be had on said petition on the 6th day of May, 1908, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, before said court in the city of Portland, Oregon, and that all creditors and persons in interest may appear at said time and show cause if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

Dated at La Grande, Oregon, April 22, 1908.

TOSS BALL TOMORROW

Tomorrow afternoon at 3:15 will begin the first game of baseball seen in this city this year. The event is one of the high school series of the valley, and in which the local highs will clash with the Cove team, which has lost once and won once from the Union school, which was downed by La Grande recently.

The locals are in fine trim and the rooters are confident of victory from the Coveites. Unless there are some unknown quantities in the visiting team, the players will be on equality as to size and average age. Tickets are being sold in advance, and meeting with ready sale, thus leading to the belief that a large crowd of students and local fans will be out. The results of the game will be posted at the Ferguson book store and the Crowe & Jolly barber shop bulletin boards immediately after the game.

The Line-up.
 La Grande will line up as follows: Garrick, c; Meyers, p; Ralston, 1b; Geddes, 2b; Bolton, 3b; Reynolds, ss; Williamson, lf; Carpy, cf; Schofield, rf.

"ANTRIM," HAMBLETONIAN STALLION.

Well-bred Hambletonian driver, bred for trotting; perfect in every way; age 7 years; weight 1390 pounds; height 16½ hands; color Mahogany Bay, no natural white spots.

Place: Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Baker property, Cove, Oregon; Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at Imbler.

Terms: $12.00, payable when mare proves to be with foal, or when mare changes owners. Care taken to prevent accidents, but no responsibility assumed.
