ARE WE SAFE AND GOOD?

The seats are absolutely safe—cannot fall down, being held in place by the Curtis Truss system. No other circus so equipped.
 The detectives with the show are from the R. J. Coach Secret Service Agency at Cleveland, Ohio.
 Gambling and catch-penny schemes are not tolerated or permitted.
 Pickpockets and sharpers are promptly spotted and locked up.
 Special attention called to the Sells-Floto science of tent construction and erection to withstand rain and storm.
 No privilege car. Only circus without it. The privilege (booze) car is a saloon on wheels, a gambling den that saps the pocketbooks of performers, canvasmen and other circus attaches, under cover to public and police, in violation of law and decency.

DEMOCRAT ATTACK GOV. CHAMBERLAIN'S ATTITUDE

The Portland Telegram last evening published on its first page, a communication from a "democrat" in La Grande. The article is well worth reading, as it uncovers some of the dissatisfaction among staunch democrats occasioned by the non-partisan attitude of the governor. It follows in full:

La Grande, Ore., May 11.—(To the Editor of the Telegram.)—As a democrat who has voted that ticket for more than 25 years, I protest against the claim of Governor Chamberlain that there is no difference now between the two leading political parties. Why are the democrats and republicans going to a vast amount of trouble and expense to nominate and try to elect men of their own parties president of the United States, if there is no difference between them?

The governor considers himself democracy incarnate, and, in as much as no principle will restrain him from doing almost anything to be elected, he is inclined to think that others care as little as he does for principles. How does the governor stand on the tariff? Is he in favor of a tariff for protection?

He pretends to indorse President Roosevelt. Roosevelt, in a message to congress, recommended that a law be passed authorizing the naturalization of Japanese. Does the governor indorse that?

The president has declared in favor of changing the federal constitution by judicial construction. Does the governor indorse that?

Has the governor abandoned the democratic position on the rights of the states? The president refused to permit the prosecution of Paul Morton, one of his cabinet, for an alleged violation of acts of congress against granting rebates, etc. Does Chamberlain indorse this? Evidently, he will indorse anything that seems to promise votes.

In the Oregonian of April 15 it was stated the German-American Citizens' alliance had recommended as candidates for nomination certain persons named therein, and among the persons so recommended is the name of George E. Chamberlain. This alliance is bitterly opposed to laws restricting the sale of intoxicating liquors, claiming that such laws are contrary to "personal liberty." They are specially opposed to local option and prohibition, and they are supporting the governor. The article referred to says that they have made a list of only those who have openly declared themselves in favor of what they call "personal liberty," and the governor is on this list. Hence, he is now "openly" in favor of the position of the German alliance. Voters will do well to remember this when they vote.

There are many democrats who are tired of Chamberlainism. Pennoyerism was once a little unpopular, but Pennoyer always stood for what he deemed principle. Chamberlain stands first and last for Chamberlain, and for no one else. His appointments and other acts are usually inspired by a supreme regard for Chamberlain. If he is defeated, thousands of democrats will not go into mourning.
