THE WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

PORTLAND COMMERCIAL CLUB IN NEW QUARTERS.

Oregon Development League Receiving Inquiries From Austria and New South Wales—Luscious Feast in Portland Celebrating New Home of the Active Club.

Portland, Ore., May 18.—(Special correspondence.)—The Oregon delegation to the National Retail Grocers' association just adjourned at Boston, won a signal victory in securing the 1909 convention for Portland. When one considers that the retail grocers are more numerous than any other class of business men, it gives an idea of the immense audience of merchants throughout this country who will be interested in hearing from Oregon during the next 12 months.

The Portland Commercial club moves today into its magnificent new home, probably the largest building of its kind owned by any popular commercial body anywhere. The first luncheon was made the occasion of honoring Oregon products, the menu being as follows:

- Pure of Fresh Oregon Tomato
- Consomme
- Essence of Oregon Beef
- Oregon Radishes
- Oregon 1908 Spring Lamb
- Mint Sauce or Currant Jelly
- Oregon New Peas
- Oregon New Potatoes Mashed
- Oregon Strawberries and Cream
- Oregon Cream Cheese and Crackers
- Coffee
- Tea
- Milk

In addition to this the furniture and fixtures are Oregon made.

The Hood River Commercial club, through its officers, is asking the cooperation of the commercial bodies of the state in favoring the establishment of Hood River county.

The Los Angeles bureau of the Portland Commercial club, under the management of Mrs. Frances K. Headlee, gives a lecture an average of 200 people every morning at 11:30. In addition to this, Mrs. Headlee has spoken before large gatherings, and especially before social bodies in the evening. She was recently the guest of the Ohio society of southern California—her address, of course, tells the glories of Oregon. Her daily reports show a great interest in the state, and that a large percentage of travel back east will return by way of Oregon.

The Oregon Development league is circulating 60,000 copies of a four-page daily and livestock bulletin. This contains most effective illustration and text, a comprehensive story of livestock, dairy and poultry realities as well as some idea of the future possibilities of this greatest of all dairy sections. The Portland Country club and Livestock association, and the location of the great packing plants are important features. It is easy to see that almost untold wealth will accrue to the state through the development of this marvelous branch of its growth.

Oregon's advertising has reached every quarter of the civilized world. Late letters have been received by the Oregon Development league from Australia and New South Wales, Australia.

Rename Bingham Springs.

The name of Bingham Springs, the famous summer resort and sanitarium 30 miles east of Pendleton in the Blue mountains, has just been changed to that of Wenaha Springs, by J. A. Borie, the new proprietor, and hereafter all the literature and advertising matter from the springs will bear the name of Wenaha Springs.

Bingham Springs were named for Dr. J. E. Bingham of Walla Walla, who located the place and established the resort there and for the past quarter of a century the resort has been known by that name.

However, desiring to give the place a name which would have more of a local significance and a more unique association, Mr. Borie has decided to name the resort Wenaha Springs, to correspond with the Wenaha reserve in which the resort is located and by which the entire Blue mountain section is coming to be known.

Final Account Filed.

The final account in the E. M. Cross, deceased, estate, was filed in the county court today by Attorney R. H. Lloyd of Elgin.
