SNAPPY GAME GOES TO LA GRANDE YESTERDAY

SOUTHPAW FUCHELL IS EQUAL TO CLEVER CAMPBELL.

La Grande Fans Saw Some Splendid Playing Yesterday—Consistent Work That Was Never Sensational But Always Good—Fournier's Two-Bagger and Kooser's Bingle Starts It—Score 2 to 1.

La Grande fans and bugs saw an exhibition of baseball yesterday that sparkled with class A playing and never assumed the class D type in which section the Baker City and La Grande teams travel.

Never was there anything particularly sensational in the game, except when Dill, center fielder for Baker, backed under a fly and nailed it. He fairly fainted when he learned he had retained possession of it.

There were errors all right, but they were seldom costly and the way La Grande held together, and the visitors too, in fact, was a bit of delight to the shivering fans on the bleachers.

"Lefty" Fuchell was in the box for La Grande and did his part well. It demonstrates the fact that the O'Brien squad has a duet of twirlers hard to beat.

But honors were not all in the pitching department. The battle was a royal one between he and Campbell for the visitors.

The latter won considerable fame last year with Boise, and has surely won a home with Manager Cryderman. The way he pulled himself out of hole after hole was cause for applause.

Things moved along like clock work until the fourth inning, when Fournier's two-bagger and Kooser's single registered O'Brien who was running for Fournier. Fournier slapped the sphere on the nose for a pretty two-base hit. He was displaced by O'Brien. Van Horst walked and Kooser bipped one to center garden, where Dill collided with it and went to the sick list for the time being. O'Brien came in to the register station. The next inning was a pitchers' battle right. In the sixth, however, La Grande got its hitting eye all in a bunch and scored the second and last tally of the game. Fournier was thrown out at first, Van Horst was given transportation to first and had immediately hied himself to third, where he was punished for being foxy. Kooser landed on the initial bag by Campbell's error and he, too, was soon meandering third-ward. He scored on the catcher's error when the third strike was dropped and Childers got to first. Fuchell was thrown out, retiring the side. That put a finishing crimp in La Grande's scoring machine.

The fans were shouting for a shut-out, but fate decreed otherwise. The only really big hit that Baker got was in the eighth and it meant a score. Price slammed a lulu into the middle garden that no sane man could get. Lee sacrificed and Wilson was caught out, but his long drive to Zimmerman meant a registration by Price. Jansen retired the side when he ditted Wilson's performance to Zimmerman.

La Grande has not seen a better balanced game in years. If the club continues to play this sort of ball it will be supported, all right.

Yale Divinity Day.

New Haven, Conn., June 1.—With the Mersick prize competition in sermonic elocution at Marquand chapel, the commencement program of the Yale Divinity school was begun today. A meeting of the alumni and a discussion followed. The anniversary address will be delivered this evening by the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Jefferson of New York. The graduating exercises will be held tomorrow.

More advertising means more business and more business means more money and more money means—but you know what that means.

PROHIBITION IS EVIDENTLY "IT"

The vote is good and the prohibitionists are carrying the precinct hands down.

Elgin Tottering.
Elgin, June 1.—(Special.)—Elgin is on the fence and neither side of the prohibition movement can safely predict a victory. The vote is large this afternoon.

North Powder Dry.
North Powder, June 1.—(Special.)—As anticipated prior to election day,

North Powder will probably give the dry issue a comfortable margin in the section of the county. The vote is large.

Umatilla Going Dry.
Pendleton, June 1.—(Special.)—Although anti-saloon men concede Pendleton in the wet column, it is believed here, on the strength of reports from outlying districts, that Umatilla county as a whole is going dry by a comfortable margin. The lead the "wets" will receive in Pendleton will not be large, according to men who have kept close watch all day.

State Prognostications.
Portland, June 1.—Both Governor Chamberlain and Hon. H. M. Calk claim the election to the United States senate as a result of today's election, but rumors give Chamberlain a lead because a heavy vote was cast. The prohibitionists claim they have carried a majority of the fights, and their opponents are claiming an even break.

The women's suffrage amendment has probably been defeated, and the university appropriation probably carried.

Outside the contest for senator, the hardest fought battle is on the liquor question. Twenty-nine of 35 counties voting on the question. Of the four remaining counties big precinct elections are on in two, the third is hopelessly "dry," and the fourth is hopelessly "wet."
