MILLER TO BUILD HOME

A noise, presumably of blasting has been disturbing the citizens of La Grande for several days, and an investigation revealed the fact that William Miller was blasting out holes for some immense stone pillars at the entrance to his property in South La Grande.

Mr. Miller is planning to erect a home that will do justice to the ideal location and if carried out will prove one of the most beautiful homes in eastern Oregon.

La Grande can already boast of some splendid dwellings, but the city as a whole delights in seeing still more of this good work going on. Mr. Miller is not the only man who contemplates building this summer, and one year from now the city will have within its borders some new homes that would be a pride to a larger city than this.

Money for Library.

The plans for the new Carnegie library building have been forwarded to Mr. Carnegie and have been approved and Mr. Hyde has received from R. A. Franks, president of the Home Trust company, a letter from which we take the following paragraphs:

"The plans seem to be very satisfactory, provided the building can be completed, ready for occupancy for the amount promised.

"When I have advised that the site has been purchased and paid for and you are ready to begin the construction of the building, I shall arrange for payments on account of Mr. Carnegie's grant."

The architects, Wayland & Fennel, of Boise, have been advised of the approval of the plans and have been asked to come to Baker at once and prepare for the letting of the contract. This is certainly good news for the people of this city, and we may now expect the work on the new building under way before the summer is over. —Baker City Democrat.

WELL, I GUESS YES!

Asked if our bottled ginger ales, sodas, sarsaparillas and carbonated mineral waters are up to the mark, the well posted man beams on one with his answer: "Well, I guess yes." Couldn't well be otherwise, for our beverages are as pure as they are delicious, wholesome as they are sparkling. Your orders, please.
