METTIE PAROLED.

Youthful Forger Given Two-Year Sentence With Conditional Freedom. Louis P. Mettie, youthful check

forger, was released from the county jail today after having been given a parole by Judge Bean. He first pleaded guilty to the charge against him. Judge Bean then imposed a sentence of two years in the penitentiary, but said he would permit of a parole under which the boy will have his freedom during good behavior.

Should he get into further trouble he will have to serve out the two years' sentence. The parole was given in consideration of the boy's extreme youth, he being less than 15 years of age.

Young Mettie recently forged several checks on the First National bank and passed them on local people. He was bound for Michigan when arrested in La Grande.—Pendleton East Oregonian.

He Came, He Saw, He Conquered.

A prominent man of this city, who is without question considered the handsomest and most attractive man in La Grande, drove to Union yesterday afternoon, presumably to attend the meeting of the Pioneers, but in reality in search of new conquests. It was the old story of "I came, I saw, I conquered." Not only were the fair damsels conquered, but the coyotes in the hills raised their voices in songs of praise and fell into line with the procession of admirers. Someone was heard to mildly suggest that perhaps the chickens and other things that coyotes are fond of might have been the attraction as far as the animals were concerned, but the maidens—well, who knows? His number was 23.

The Nashville Students.

The above named company appeared at the opera house last evening before a fair-sized house. The performance was a creditable one, as a whole, while the dancing was excellent; in fact, the best seen in La Grande for many months. There are nine people in the company and they keep busy all the time. Those who attended last evening were well satisfied.—Black Hills Register, April 24. The Nashville Students will appear at the Steward opera house Monday and Tuesday of next week.
