Engineer Cupernall reports that he ran an engine across the bridge over the Grande Ronde river at the Looking Glass, and trains have now been seen in Wallowa county for the first time in history.

An aged man of Spokane, who was en route to Wallowa county, to seek a more suitable climate, was taken so seriously ill here this morning, that he was forced to turn back and go to his home again. Suffering with paralysis, he was unable to move. Old soldiers and members of the W. R. C. who happened to be at the depot this morning, provided him with roses and assisted the old soldier as best they could. The stricken man was accompanied by his wife.

LA GRANDE IS READY FOR ITS CELEBRATION

"success" spelled in large letters. Prizes for Autos.

Several inquiries regarding the auto parade have been made in the last day or two. There seems to be some doubt in the minds of owners of machines as to whether there is to be an automobile section in the parade or not.

We can say emphatically that there will be an automobile section, and that the best decorated machine will be awarded a prize of $10; the second prize is $5, and the third $2.50. It behooves the local auto enthusiasts to give considerable care and attention to their decorations. Dr. Samuels of Baker City, will be here in a machine decorated with hundreds of chrysanthemums, and he expects to receive that first prize.

Take Notice.

Mrs. Silverthorn requests that all those to take part in the Colonial, Indian or Landing of Columbus floats, meet at her home at the corner of Eighth and O streets, promptly at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

DECISION RENDERED.

Circuit Judge Crawford has rendered a decision in the case of Douglas & Neiderer vs. J. B. Stoddard, favoring the defendant. The sum which is stipulated in the decision as now due Mr. Stoddard was a trifle over a thousand dollars. The case was instituted by the plaintiffs for an accounting, but the court found the defendant the man to which money was due.
