QUIT AND GIVE UP

WEISER'S ACT BECOMING "ALLEY-CREEPERS" ONLY.

In Leaving the Lot Yesterday Weiser Disclosed Its True Principles, to Quit When Not Winning—Action Had No Semblance of Justification—That is Weiser's Game, Say Many.

Weiser's fame as ball players has died an ignominious death. La Grande has given the "agebrushers" credit thus far for being an aggregation of ball players of a high class, but the real spirit of the Idahoans has been divulged. The boys play a first class straight game if they are ahead, but just as soon as their chances are waning, they get angry and quit. "Quitter" is the most detestable name that can come to the tongue of a lover of sports in any of its varied forms. The Weiser team is a quitter spelled in big letters. Readers can form their own application of the word detestable, in this instance.

Drummers who know Weiser's record attest to the rumor that this is Weiser's little game. That, rather than bear the sting of defeat, they jump at a chance to kick, like the drowning man grasping the proverbial straw. They grabbed at the straw yesterday in the shape of an overthrow and had the nerve to interpret a passed ball rule to cover overthrows from the field. A nice crowd paid good money to see the game and were robbed. The effect is bad on La Grande, but worse to Weiser. Never again can fandom rely on the quitter.

That the Weiserites are hardened to this extremely poor sportsman's conduct was evinced by the way in which they faced the hisses and jeers hurled at them from every corner when they ambled off the field. When La Grande stoops to the diminutive act of quitting a game on a trumped up proposition like Weiser did yesterday, it's all off. But they won't for they are sportsmen and not kids, a term which falls short of covering the act of the Weiser manager yesterday.

Because the manager used to play in a back yard on such principles at a time not far in the past, it is no sign he can carry it into a community where baseball is played. If that is Idaho's style of baseball, give us the Oregon stuff.

Sherwood's Change.

With over 1000 feet of reel in the "Legend of the Ghosts," the Sherwood Electric presents a strong feature for the week end. Along with this splendid piece are several other good ones, which all go to make up a strong attraction.

Notice.

To My Friends and Patrons:
Having sold my stock of hardware etc., to Messrs. Lilly and Foster, who will continue in the same line of business, and at the same place. Mr. Lilly having been associated with me for the past six years, I take pleasure in recommending the new firm to my many friends and patrons and trust that you will find business with them as pleasant as our business relations have always been. I will be found at the store during the month of July, and will be pleased to have as many of my friends call and settle their accounts as possible during the month. Thanking you for the many favors shown me, I remain,
Very respectfully,
MRS. T. N. MURPHY.

It Can't Be Beat.

The best of all teachers is experience. C. M. Harden, of Silver City, North Carolina, says: "I find Electric Bitters does all that's claimed for it. For stomach, liver and kidney troubles it can't be beat. I have tried it and find it a most excellent medicine." Mr. Harden is right: it's the best of all medicines also for weakness, lame back, and all run down conditions. Best, too, for chills and malaria. Sold under guarantee at the Newlin drug store. 50c.

Sure Cure for Asthma.

Danger in a Cold.

Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Not only pneumonia, but also the infectious diseases such as diphtheria and scarlet fever start with a cold. The cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs of these diseases. Take our advice—cure your cold while you can.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

by its remarkable cures of colds has become a staple article of trade and commerce. It is prompt; it is effectual; it is reliable. Try it.

NEWLIN DRUG CO.
