NEW USE OF OLD STUMPS

LA GRANDE MEN MAKE
ASTONISHING INVENTION.

Decayed Stumps on Mountains of the Immediate Vicinity Will No Longer Go to Waste—Local Paint Men Find New Process of Making the Turpentine That Will Produce a High-Grade Product.

A new invention has been worked out by La Grande men, which will revolutionize the use of timber lands where the timber has been cut off.
The invention which is now being patented, will make use of decayed stumps on the mountains and will no doubt become an extensive industry, especially in the Blue Mountains, where a large percentage of the stumps are impregnated with pitch.
The scheme is to make turpentine along a plan that is so far different from other processes now in use, that there will be but little resemblance to them. From old decayed stumps, at least 12 years older than the time the tree was cut, commercial turpentine will be extracted, leaving liberal quantities of by-products. The inventors are H. H. Thomas, a commercial man representing a paint house, and who lives in this city when he is not on the road, and W. E. Powell, a local painter. They have worked out the scheme and have sent their invention to the United States patent office, where rights are now pending.

The inventors maintain the results will be highly satisfactory. The principal product will be roasted from the stump by a process known only to them. Aside from turpentine, there will be by-products consisting of oil of tar, pine tar, creosote and a residue of charcoal. When properly made the new kind of turpentine will be nearer chemically pure than any grade of turpentine now manufactured.

In theory the scheme is perfect and the inventors believe it will prove as practical as it is correct theoretically.
When the patent rights are secured, the men will take steps to establish a plant to make the liquid for commercial purposes.

Instructions to Foresters.

A. B. Dalgity, grand secretary of the Foresters of America, has issued the following instructions to La Grande members of the order who are planning on visiting the Portland Jude during the visit of Supreme Chief Ranger John J. O'Grady:

On the night of the 10th of August the reception headquarters for Foresters and their friends will be open at Foresters' hall, in the Marquam building, and will be kept open until the night after the class initiation of the 12th of August.

On the night of August 11, you are requested to meet with your court not later than 7:30 p. m. and be ready to march to Seventh & Morrison; where the parade will start at 8 p. m.
This is most important, as the musicians will be ready and must start at this hour. We will have an interesting program at the armory.

The parade will form on Seventh & Morrison. Line of march will be east on Morrison to Third, north on Third to Washington, west on Washington to Seventh, south on Seventh to Morrison, west on Morrison to Tenth, north on Tenth to the armory. The divisions will be three.

The Height of the Season.

The Central reports cherry shipments at the top notch this week, an average of a car a day going out over the line. Up to Wednesday the record had been broken, six cars having been shipped for the week up to that time.
This is especially gratifying, as the outlook for the sale of cherries earlier in the season was not encouraging.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold.
A. J. Nussbaum, Batesville, Ind., writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed to only aggravate my case. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." A. T. Hill, druggist.
