NEW RULES MADE CLEAR

When "school days" are uppermost in the minds of the La Grande students, those of them who indulge in football are bracing up on the new rules. Ordinary rooters are also acquainting themselves with the new provisions that they may be able to get all the sport possible out of the games to be played here this season.

The new rules differ but slightly from the ones in force last year, and heretofore the changes have been so worded that the uninitiated could make nothing out of them. According to the best authorities, the following interpretations of the new rules are the clearest of any yet published in the northwest:

Changes in the football rules are not as many as in previous years, but they are important. A change in the forward pass rule which will likely have a decided bearing on the game has been made. When a forward pass is legally touched only the man of the passer's side who first touched it shall be entitled to recover the ball until it is touched by an opponent.

If a forward pass is thus legally touched, fumbled and touched by another player of the passer's side before the ball is touched by an opponent the ball shall go to the opponents on the side where it was illegally touched.

This rule will make it more dangerous for the side in possession of the ball to try a forward pass. If a man misses the ball it practically means that the other side will get the pigskin. The forward pass will, therefore, probably not be used so extensively this season.

While the ball is in the air for a forward pass, players on the defensive side may use their arms or hands on opponents except to push them out of the way in order to get the ball themselves. Players of the side making the pass may use their hands and arms as in the case of players going down the field under a kick.

Neither side may, however, "hold" or "tackle" an opponent who has not the ball. If the ball is illegally touched outside of these provisions, the penalty provides that the ball will go to the opponents on the spot where the pass was made.

Time will be taken out during the enforcement of penalty for incomplete pass. If a ball on a forward pass or kick strikes the uprights or the crossbar of the goal posts the ball shall be considered as having crossed the goal line.

In case the ball accidentally strikes an official the play will be started over again. A change which appears to be somewhat uncalled for, is the lengthening of the intermission between halves from 10 minutes to 15 minutes. The referee must notify the teams three minutes before its expiration.

Five minutes after this notification if either team has failed to appear the ball shall be put in play as first down by the offended side on the offending side's 30-yard line.

In order to render the rules and penalties more consistent the rules which govern the conduct of players and persons not in the game who sometimes cause fouls are made to read: "Loss of 15 yards, point to be gained and number of downs to remain unchanged." Penalties for fouls may be refused by the offended side except penalties under the forward pass.

This, however, in cases where the penalty includes disqualification, does not save the player from being put out of the game. If a player bats the ball forward his side loses the pigskin. This comes under the jurisdiction of the umpire and field judge. The field judge also is the timekeeper in place of the head linesman. The score of a forfeited game shall be 1 to 0. This distinguishes it from all other possible scores.

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

No old sore can heal until the cause which produces it has been removed. External applications of salves, washes, lotions, etc., may reduce the inflammation and assist in keeping the place clean, but cannot cure the trouble because they do not reach its source. Old sores exist because the blood is infected with impurities and poisons which are constantly being discharged into the place. The nerves, tissues and fibres of the flesh are kept in a state of irritation and disease by being daily fed with the germ-laden matter through the circulation, making it impossible for the sore to heal. S. S. S. cures chronic sores by its purifying action on the blood. It goes down into the circulation, and removes the poison-producing germs, impurities and morbid matters which are responsible for the failure of the place to heal. S. S. S. makes the blood pure, fresh and healthy; then as new, rich blood is carried to the spot the healing process begins, all discharge ceases, the inflammation leaves, new tissue begins to form, the place fills in with firm, healthy flesh, and soon the sore is permanently cured. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, the safest and best blood purifier for young or old. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.
