FIND RELIC OF THE PAST

Union county's court house has many antique and valuable documents in it, and from time to time one of these is unearthed by the various officials. The latest thing of interest to be found in the archives came to light Saturday afternoon.

Among a pile of old rubbish stored in one of the office safes and which was presumably moved over from Union at the time of the county seat removal four years ago, was found an old autograph album, not much the worse for age. On the fly leaf is found the following inscription:

"Presented to Mr. John Hanson, by B. W. Huffman, Nov. 15, 1888."

The Huffman referred to is Editor Bert Huffman, formerly an engineer running out of this city, but now editor of the Pendleton East Oregonian, and one of the most versatile poets of the state. No one appears to know who "John Hanson" is.

On the next page is found the following:

"For the expression of truthful, sincere thoughts of my friends. Nov. 15, 188. Jno. H. Hanson."

The balance of the pages are blank, except on about the 17th page the following is found:

"To John."

(On the First Anniversary of His Wedding.)

'Tis just one year ago today, John,
Just one long year ago;
The forest leaves had fallen down,
The hills were wreathed in snow;
You saw beside your path a flower--
A blossom freshly blown;
You loved its faultless innocence
And claimed it as your own.

Long may you live! Long may she live--
Your helpmeet and your wife!
And on your brows, pray, may there shine

The fairest crowns of Life!
When silver threads and furrows creep
Upon your manly brow,
May all the cares and trials of Life
Bear lighter then, than now!
--B. W. H., Nov. 15, 1889.
